FIRES MAY CLAIM TOWN FOR PREY

Axleton Threatened With Extinction by Forest Flames Breaking Out Anew.

SCORES FIGHT RED TERROR

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MONONGAHELA, PA., Nov. 22.—After it was supposed the devastating forest fire which was started by a railroad engine spark last Sunday on the hillside opposite here had been brought under control, the blaze broke out again this evening, and the flames now menace not only the tipple of the Mongah mine and farmhouses which lie in the path of the fire, but the village of Axleton.

Danger threatens the farmhouses and crops on the level land at the top of the hill. Here men are racing against the flames in an endeavor to plow up enough earth to stay their course. A stretch of a mile along the high hillside has already been swept by the flames. At the Mongah mine an effort is being made tonight to save the company's property by starting smaller fires to meet the larger one.

Linn Pollock of Monongahela, who was overcome while fighting the fire yesterday, is out of danger. At the home of James Cain, on the Pierce farm, nothing was saved except a table and two chairs.

More than 75 owners of homes, crops and other property in Forward township, Allegheny county, where the fire is raging, are battling with the oncoming red line tonight.

FACTORY GIRLS COMPEL LANDLORD TO RETREAT

Mob of Fair Ones Resist Attempt to Curtail Work by Shutting Off the Water Supply.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 22.—Jacob Roose, a wealthy local contractor, was put to flight today by a mob of factory girls who pursued him with sticks and stones. They would not cease hostilities until he had turned on the water in a building owned by him and occupied by the Mansfield Glove Company, which employs the girls.

Roose, who turned off the water and natural gas in the building several times, was recently restrained by injunction from interfering in this manner, but the temporary injunction having expired he turned the water from the boilers today and told the girls they could only work an hour longer, as the boilers would then be dry.

The girls, seizing sticks, stones and ropes, started for Roose, who beat a hasty retreat and took refuge in an adjoining grocery. The girls followed and it looked bad for Roose, who escaped by turning on the water.

LOOMIS QUESTIONS ELLIS.

State Department Issues a Statement Expressing Satisfaction With His Explanation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—W. H. Ellis, who left the United States last summer in comany with F. Kent Loomis, the brother of the assistant secretary of state, on a trip to Abyssinia, where Mr. Loomis was carrying a commercial treaty between that country and the United States to be signed, and who after the mysterious death at [illegible] of Mr. Loomis, was designated to [illegible] the treaty to King Menelik, today was questioned at the state department regarding Loomis' death by Assistant Secretary of State Loomis.

The department later issued a statement expressing its satisfaction with Mr. Ellis' explanation.

CIVIC LEAGUE CARRIES PROTEST TO GOVERNOR

Asks State's Executive to Withhold Franchise Permitting Trolley Line on Boulevard.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 22.—Officers of the Voters' Civic league of Pittsburgh appeared before Gov. Pennypacker this afternoon in opposition to the Grant Boulevard Street Railway Company's application for a charter to build a trolley line the entire length of the boulevard.

The league objects to the proposed trolley line because it would destroy the only driveway from the East End to the city, and, besides, the boulevard street railway should never be permitted to occupy it. The bonds for this thoroughfare were voted with that assurance, the governor was told by S. W. Childs, president, and A. Leo Weil, vice president of the league.

Protest was also made by the Grant and Liberty Street Railway Company, represented by William C. Farnsworth of Harrisburg, and A. M. Imbrie of Pittsburgh, who contended that corporation had the prior exclusive right granted by the state and the city councils of Pittsburgh to use and occupy the streets named in the application. No one appeared for the application. The governor reserved his decision.

WOUNDED WOMAN RIDES MILES AFTER OFFICERS

Replies to Mob Attack on Husband's Saloon, Fatally Injuring One Man.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Nov. 22.—The settlement across the Big Sandy river from Yorkville has been the scene of a fatal feud between the family of John Wallace and the Curry brothers. The Currys demanded liquor at Wallace's saloon last night, but were refused because, it is alleged, they were intoxicated. The Curry brothers then began shooting and Wallace closed his saloon. Later the Currys and others went to Wallace's home, demanding that Wallace come out.

When Mrs. Wallace told them her husband was not at home, the crowd broke in the windows, whereupon Mrs. Wallace fired, fatally wounding Thomas Curry. The crowd then began to tear down the Wallace home, and seizing a young brother of Mrs. Wallace, they bound him hand and foot and laid his head on a log. It is said one of the Curry brothers was about to decapitate the youngster when Wallace fired and the crowd scattered, leaving the boy unhurt.

The Curry party again attacked Wallace's home, and Mrs. Wallace was shot in the leg and the shoulder. She rode to Louisa, Ky., and the sheriff and deputies started from Louisa to the scene of the trouble. Wallace escaped to Yorkville, but all of his livestock was killed by the mob.

It is estimated that about 500 shots were fired and that 10 members of the mob were badly injured. A reward of $1,000 has been offered for the apprehension of any member of the mob.

MOVEMENT FOR NEW ARMORIES

National Guard Association Appoints Committee to Press for an Appropriaiton.

COL. LOGAN IS CHAIRMAN

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 22.

It was decided at a meeting of the Pennsylvania National Guards association, held today in the First regiment armory, that the incoming legislature be petitioned for a sufficient amount of money to begin the work of building armories in which to properly house the members of the state guard.

It was also suggested a sufficient sum be asked for in the annual appropriation to secure the proper equipment for those officers elected from the ranks, who otherwise would be compelled to decline advancement, on account of inability to buy uniforms.

To get money for the erection of armories a committee of seven, under the chairmanship of Col. A. J. Logan of Pittsburgh, who will select the members, was decided on. It will be the duty of this committee to see that the matter is put properly before the members of the legislature.

In the matter of obtaining uniforms Adjt.-Gen. Stewart said it would be provided for in the next appropriations.

Today's annual meeting was attended by nearly 200 officers of the guard from all over the state. Col. Logan was chosen president. Many visitors were entertained at dinner at the Union league this evening. CHESTER D. POTTER.

JOKED AT SUPERSTITION; MEETS SUDDEN DEATH

Tragic End Came to One of Thirteen Participants in a "Hoodoo" Supper.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SCRANTON, PA., Nov. 22.—Last Wednesday night Matthew H. Dale, a prominent contractor, and brother of Congressman-Elect T. H. Dale, was one of a party of 13 who sat down to an election bet supper in this city. Some one called attention to the fact and Mr. Dale laughed and joked about the fear of some that the fateful 13 might work mischief.

Today Mr. Dale's remains were brought to this city from Buffalo. With Victor Koch he started Sunday for Mt. Clemens, Mich. While alighting from a moving train in the station at Buffalo that night he fell under the wheels and had one of his feet so badly crushed that it had to be amputated. He died this morning in a Buffalo hospital from shock.

Benbow's "Montana Meteor" Is Handicapped in Its Trial Trip by Running Out of Fuel.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—After remaining in the air 45 minutes, only for a brief period of which it was propelled by its own power, the "Montana Meteor," the airship designed and constructed by Thomas Benbow of Columbus, Mont., was brought safely to the ground in an open field three miles southeast of the world's fair aerodrome.

The airship was navigated by the inventor, who stated after the flight, a leak in the gasoline tank allowed all the fluid to escape, and rendered his motor useless shortly after he had started the flight.

TARIFF MAY BE AMENDED

No Radical Revision of Dingley Law Will Occur, Says Secretary Shaw.

REBUFF TO CUMMINS

President Handed Him Message Denying Foss' Statement as to Massachusetts.

VIEW OF HEAD OF TREASURY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.

That the president is not going to take the advice of the radical tariff revisers in changing the tariff, was shown by an incident connected with the visit of Gov. Cummins yesterday. Gov. Cummins touched on the tariff and said the west was wild for tariff revision. The president made no reply, but listened patiently to everything that Gov. Cummins had to say. When he was through the president handed to Gov. Cummins a copy of a telegram from Boston business men, declaring that statements which Eugene N. Foss, the defeated tariff revision candidate from Massachusetts, had made at the White House, that the election of W. L. Douglas as governor, was due to the tariff, was false in every particular.

Of equal significance was the utterance of views today on the tariff by Secretary Shaw, the political opponent of Gov. Cummins in Iowa, and the leading "stand patter" in the country.

"I am in favor," said Secretary Shaw, "of sending for the prominent agitators for tariff revision, and asking each what schedules he would have revised. I would ask him to give his reasons and specify the schedules he would modify. My own impression is that when all of them had been heard from not more than 20 articles would be touched. The recent election was a 'stand pat' victory, and if the tariff is to be amended it will be amended in accordance with the views of the 'stand patters.' The friends of the tariff will be consulted and it will be made clear that the administration has not been driven into this position by the men who advocated radical revision."

Secretary Shaw expressed himself in favor of radical modification of the tariff act only so far as it related to the system of drawbacks. His special object would be to stimulate foreign markets for the American manufacturer and more labor for the workingmans. He laid special stress on his belief that the Dingley law would be amended rather than revised.

THINKS COMMISSION NEEDS MORE POWER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—Gov. S. R. Van Sant of Minnesota, in talking today concerning his conference with the president, said: "I believe the best way to correct many of the evils of transportation is to give the interstate commerce commission the power, when a rate, after investigation, has been found to be unreasonable, to fix one, have it go into effect immediately and stand until the courts decide otherwise. I urged the president to recommend this to congress."

SENATOR SCOTT CALLS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Congratulates President on Election Result—Sure of Being Sent Back to the Senate.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—Senator N. B. Scott of West Virginia, called at the White House today to felicitate the president upon the result of the election. Mr. Scott informed his friends that there was no question as to his re-election to the United States senate. He said that every Republican in the legislature would vote for him.

This statement was confirmed by Elliott Northcott, Republican state chairman, who accompanied Mr. Scott on his visit to the president. Mr. Northcott said there was no truth in a published story that Gov. White of West Virginia has a sufficient number of pledges from members of the legislature to elect himself to the senate. "The fact is," said Mr. Northcott, "Gov. White is himself pledged to the election of Senator Scott and has done much to bring about his election."

Senator Scott will have no opposition. Anybody who would oppose him would be run out of the state. Senator Scott is too useful and valuable a man to West Virginia to kept out of the senate."

ONLY AVAILABLE SITE WILL BE SELECTED

Reeder Declares Offer for Naval Station Site Will Not Affect Choice.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON D. C., Nov. 22.—The commission appointed to select a site on the Great lakes for a naval training station announced today that the gift of a portion or all of the land needed would not in itself be a controlling factor in the selection of the location. This statement counteracted to a large extent the effect of the offer of Graeme Stewart of Chicago yesterday, that the Commercial club of Chicago would purchase and give to the government 173 acres of land, if the training station were located at Lake Bluff, Ill.

Representatives of Erie, Put-in-Bay, Sandusky Bay, Muskegon and other sites were preparing to meet this offer if it was found that the proposition was likely to influence the choice of the location. But Capt. Reeder, chairman of the commission, stated today that he and his colleagues would choose the site that was the most valuable, whether the land was given to the government or whether it must be purchased. This is in line with the argument of Senator Knox yesterday in presenting the claims of Erie, who said that economy should not control the commission in making their decision as the cheapest site offered might prove the most expensive in the end.

CRAZED MAN ATTEMPTS CREMATION OF FAMILY

Strips Children and Set Fire to Clothing—Overpowered After a Struggle.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 22.—Ten days ago the wife of Alem Salem, miner at Robertsdale, Huntingdon county, suddenly became mentally deranged from worrying over sickness in the family and her husband remained at home to care for her and their six children. His ill luck and his wife's condition, so preyed upon his mind that he, too, became mentally unbalanced yesterday and in a frenzy decided to burn his house and cremate the family.

Locking the doors he stripped the children naked. He then ignited their clothing at the kitchen range and forcing them into one room waited for the flames to accomplish his purpose. Neighbors saw the blaze and called the firemen, who quickly removed the children and extinguished the fire.

Salem, eluding the firemen, fled from the house armed with two butcher knives and sought refuge in a neighboring woods, terrorizing the people he encountered. Before he could do any harm, however, he was overpowered by other miners and will be taken to an asylum.

M'KINLEY MONUMENT PLAN TOO EXPENSIVE

William McConway of Pittsburgh on the Committee to Confer With Architect to Secure Change.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A design for the national memorial to the late President McKinley was submitted today at a meeting of the national trustees of the McKinley Memorial association at the rooms of the Republican club, No. 54 West Fortieth street. Present at the meeting were George B. Cortelyou, Charles W. Fairbanks, vice president-elect; Gov. Murphy of New Jersey, Alexander H. Revelle, chairman of the Illinois state committee; Judge Day of Ohio; Elbridge T. Gerry, Cornelius N. Bliss, William McConway of Pittsburgh and others.

The drawings are said to show a massive structure unlike either the Grant monument in New York or the Garfield monument in Cleveland, which, it is said, would require more money than the trustees have in hand, about $550,000. The trustees appointed a committee to confer with the architect regarding changes. The committee consists of Gov. Murphy, New Jersey, and E. Y. Bloomingdale, Cornelius N. Bliss and William McConway.

During the meeting resolutions on the death of former Postmaster General Payne were read and adopted and will be sent to Mrs. Payne.

FAVORS TRUE BROTHERHOOD

President Advocates Wagner's Teachings and Tells of Examples.

PRAISES THE Y. M. C. A.

To Preserve Republic Each Man Must Be Treated According to His Worth.

MINISTER AT WHITE HOUSE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—President Roosevelt introduced the Rev. Charles Wagner, the author, to a large audience at the Lafayette opera house this afternoon, where under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association, he delivered a lecture on "The Simple Life," given under the patronage of a number of well-known official and society people. The audience which gathered to hear the author was a thoroughly representative one of the national capital. President Roosevelt, who is a great admirer of Mr. Wagner, was given a cordial reception. He was introduced by District Commissioner Henry B. F. MacFarland and in turn presented Mr. Wagner to the audience in the following words:

"This is the first, and will be the only time during my presidency, that I shall ever introduce a speaker to an audience; and I am more than glad to do it in this instance.

Book Preaches to All.

"I like the book because it does not merely preach to the rich and does not merely preach to the poor. It is a very easy thing to address a section of the community in reprobation of the forms of vice to which it is not prone. What we need to have impressed upon us is that it is not usually the root principles of the vice that varies with variation in social conditions, but that it is the manifestation of the vice that varies, and Mr. Wagner has well brought out the great fundamental truth that the brutal arrogance of the rich man who looks down upon a poor man because he is poor, and the brutal envy and hatred felt by a poor man towards a rich man merely because he is rich, are at bottom twin manifestations of the same vice. They are simply different sides of the same shield.

"The arrogance that looks down in the one case; the envy that hates in the other, are really exhibitions of the same mean, base and unlovely spirit which happens in one case to be in different surroundings from what it is in the other case. The kind of man who would be arrogant in one case is precisely the kind of man who would be envious and filled with hatred in the other. The ideal should be the just, the generous, the broad-minded man, who is as incapable of arrogance if rich as he is of malignant envy and hatred if poor.

Must Not be Class Republic.

"No republic can permanently exist when it becomes a republic of classes, where the man feels not the interest of the whole people, but the interest of the particular class to which he belongs, or fancies that he belongs, as being of prime importance. In antiquity republics failed as they did because they tended to become either a republic of the few, who exploited the many, or a republic of the many who plundered the few, and in either case the end of the republic was inevitable; just as much so in one case as in the other, and no more so in one case than in the other. We can keep this republic true to the principles of those who founded and of those who afterward preserved it; we can keep it a republic at all, only by remembering that we must live up to the theory of its founders, to the theory of treating each man on his worth as a man, neither holding it for nor against him that he occupies any particular station in life, so long as he does his duty fairly and well by his fellows, and by the nation as a whole. (Applause.)

Praises of Y. W. C. A.

"Now a word with special reference to his address to this audience, to the Young Men's Christian association. The profound regard which I have always felt for those responsible for the work of the Young Men's Christian associations and the Young Women's Christian associations, is largely because they have practically realized or at least have striven to realize, the ideal of adherence to the text which reads: 'Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only.' If you came here only with the idea of passing a pleasant afternoon and then go home and do not actually practice somewhat of what Mr. Wagner preaches and practices, then small will be the use of your coming. It is not of the slightest use to hear the word if you do not try to put it into effect afterward.

"The Young Men's Christian associations have accomplished so much because those whom have managed them have tried practically to do their part in bringing about what is expressed in the phrase 'The Fatherhood of God, and the Brotherhood of Man.' We can act individually or we can act by association. I intend this afternoon to illustrate by a couple of examples, what I mean by a man acting individually and what I mean by a man acting in association with his fellows.

Work of a Civic Club.

"I hesitated whether I would use, as I shall use, the names of the people whom I meant, but I came to the conclusion that I would, because the worth of an example consists very largely in the knowledge that the example is a real one. I have been immensely interested for a number of years in the working of the Civic club in New York, which has been started and superintended by Mr. Norton Goddard. It is a club on the East Side of New York city, the range of whose membership includes a big district of the city, extending from about Lexington avenue to the East river. Mr. Goddard realized that such work can be done to best advantage only upon condition of there being genuine and hearty sympathy among those doing it. There are a great many people so made in this world (I think most of us come under the category), that they would resent being patronized about as much as being wronged. Great good can never be done if it is attempted in a patronizing spirit.

"Mr. Goddard realized that the work could be done efficiently only on condition of getting into close and hearty touch with the people, through whom and with whom he was to work. In consequence, this Civic club was founded and it has gradually extended its operations until now the entire club membership of 3,000 or 4,000 men practically form a committee of betterment in social and civic life, spread throughout that district, each member keeping a sharp lookout over the fortunes of all his immediate neighbors, of all of those of his neighborhood who do not come within the ken of some other member of the club.

Cases of Need Reported.

Therefore, any case of destitution, of great suffering in the district almost inevitably comes to the attention of some member of the club who then reports it at headquarters so that steps can be taken to alleviate the misery, and I have reason to believe that there has been in consequence a very sensible general uplifting, a general increase of happiness, throughout the district. If we had a sufficient number of clubs of this kind throughout our great cities, while we would not by any means have solved all of the terrible problems that press upon us for solution in connection with municipal misgovernment and with the overcrowding, misery, vice, disease and poverty of great cities, yet we would have taken a long stride forward in the right direction toward their solution. So much for the example that I use to illustrate what I mean by work in combination.

As an example of what can be done, and should be done, by the individual citizen, I shall mention something that recently occurred in this city of Washington, a thing that doubtless many of you know about, but which was unknown to me until recently. A few weeks ago when I was walking back from church one Sunday I noticed a great fire, and found that it was Downey's livery stable—you recollect it, three or four weeks

Admirable Work of Downey.

Through a train of circumstances that I need not mention, my attention was particularly called to the case and I looked into it. I had long known of the very admirable work done with singular modesty and self-effacement by Mr. Downey in trying to give homes to the homeless, and to be himself a friend of those in a peculiar sense friendless in this community, and now I by accident found out what had happened in connection with this particular incident.

It appears that last spring Mr. Downey started to build a new livery stable; his stable is next door to a colored Baptist church. Mr. Downey is a white man and a Catholic, and these neighbors of his are colored and Baptists, and their kinship was simply the kinship of that broad humanity that should underlie all our feelings toward one another. (Applause). Mr. Downey started to build his stable and naturally wanted to have it as big a stable as possible, and build it right up to the limits of his land. That brought the wall close up against the back of the colored Baptist church, cutting out the light and air. The preacher called upon him and told him that they would like to purchase a strip six feet broad of the ground of Mr. Downey, upon which he was intending to build, as it would be a great inconvenience to them to lose the light and air; that they were aware that it was asking a great deal of him to cramp the building out of which he intended to make his livelihood, but that they hoped he would do it because of their need.

After a great deal of thought Mr. Downey came to the conclusion that he ought to grant the request, and so he notified them that he would change his plans, make a somewhat smaller building, and sell them the six feet of land in the strip adjoining their church. After a little while the preacher came around with the trustees of his church and said that they very much appreciated Mr. Downey's courtesy, and were sorry they had bothered him as they had, because, on looking into the affairs of the church they found that, as they were already in debt they did not feel warranted in incurring any further financial obligations, and so they had to withdraw their request. They thanked him for his kindly purpose and said goodby.

Application of Wagner's Teachings.

But Mr. Downey found he could not sleep that night until finally he made up his mind that as they could not buy it he would give it to them anyway, (applause), which he did. But unfortunately we know that the tower of Siloam often falls upon the just and the unjust alike, and Mr. Downey's livery stable caught fire, and burned down.

It was Sunday morning and the Baptist church was in session next door to him, and the clergyman stopped and said: "Now, you women stay here and pray, and you men go straight out and help our benefactor, Mr. Downey," and go out they did, and got his horses all out, so that none of them were burned, although he suffered otherwise a total loss.

Now I call that a practical application of Mr. Wagner's teachings. Here in Washington we have a right to be proud of a citizen like Mr. Downey; and if only we can develop enough such citizens, we shall turn out just the kind of community that does not need to, but will always be glad to, study the "Simple Life," the author of which I now introduce to you. (Applause).

Mrs. Roosevelt entertained the members of the cabinet and their families and a few personal friends at a French lecture by the Rev. Wagner at the White House tonight.

SKELETON SCARED NAN PATTERSON

Chorus Girl Turned White When the Grewsome Exhibit Was Brought Into Court.

WILL SOON FACE MRS. YOUNG

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.

"Nan" Patterson stared undisturbed at the blood-stained, shot-pierced clothes of the man she is accused of slaying, when they were held up before her; she gave no sign of agitation when the events immediately following the death of the man in which she bore a part were detailed by the cabman who took her and Caesar Young on the death drive, all of which must have brought back the events of that morning with terrible distinctiveness—but there was a development of the trial today that penetrated her cold reserve, and stirred her torpid imagination.

This was the fragment of a skeleton brought into court to furnish the doctors a means of illustrating the character of the wound that killed "Caesar" Young. While the skeleton was being exhibited Miss Patterson turned deathly white, and called for a glass of water.

Really the skeleton was not particularly horrible. The skull had been removed to eliminate the grinning ghastliness, and the leg bones were also omitted to further deprive it of likeness to anything human—but it was bone of what had been a man's body; it was the embodiment of death, and "Nan" Patterson was afraid of it.

She is that kind of woman evidently—commonplace in intellect and deficient in imagination; impervious to suggestions such as would come from the clothes and the testimony, but with enough superstition to be distressed by a few bones strung together with wire.

Today the sensational trial settled down to the routine of building up the mountain of evidence that the prosecution depends upon to overwhelm the show girl with the baby mouth and misty eyes. There are multitudes of witnesses, and as this is a case where the difference between proven guilt, and the uncertainty that means acquittal, lies in the smallest details, there is not one whose account fails of tremendous interest.

The prosecution has announced that it knows of no eye witness to the actual shooting. It is just as obvious that the defense has a witness—red-haired man who passed on a street car, or who was immediately behind a street car, who will testify that he saw the shooting. The efforts to discredit this witness in advance are among the most interesting developments of this remarkable trial.

Within a day or two, possibly tomorrow, the widow of the slain man will be brought into court to tell of her efforts to break off the intimacy between her husband and this girl. It is anticipated the wife will tell that her husband sought Nan Patterson—after it had been all settled that their squalid tenderloin romance was over—not with any sentimental idea, but to get from her the letters he had written, and so eliminate the title deeds of her hold upon him.

William Stemm, Jr., the young man who directed Michael, the cab driver to the hospital, proved to be the star witness of the day. He was standing on the corner of West Broadway and York street and heard the revolver shot just after the cab had passed him. As the cab swung around to the drug store he followed, and saw the driver talking with the druggist. In the cab he saw a man and a woman, the man lying with his head in the woman's lap.

"The driver seemed to be all tangled up," said Stemm, "and I rode on the step of the cab to the hospital. When we reached the hospital I helped the woman to alight. She was frightened and pale, and looked as if she wanted to cry, but couldn't."

Coroner's physician, O'Hanlon, the last witness of the day, was asked about bits of skin from Caesar Young's middle finger, presumably taken with a view to discovering if a slight stain was not a powder mark. The doctor took up the glass slides on which the bits of skin had been mounted, and held them to the light, and still "Nan" Patterson did no more than draw her lips and trifle with the smelling salts bottle that is never out of her hands.

Her old father realized the strain she was under pending this discussion of human fragments and surgical details, and his arm went around her and he patted her shoulder encouragingly. She smiled back at him as though to tell him there was no fear of her giving way, and so the day ended.

APPEALS TO GOVERNOR FOR ELECTION REFORMS

Joint Committee Urges Passage of Personal Registration Bill—Working for Pure Ballot.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—The joint committee for the promotion of election reforms in Pennsylvania is waging a campaign in support of the bill providing for personal registration of voters introduced in the last legislature. It is the purpose of the committee to have it reintroduced in the legislature of 1905. The committee has asked members of both branches of the legislature to support the measure, and has addressed a letter to Gov. Pennypacker asking him to urge action by the legislature. The committee says the allegation that only professional reformers are interested is untrue, "unless we include in that designation the 214,798 citizens who voted for the measure in 1901 and the number of business and other organizations that indorsed it. The measure is vitally necessary to keep elections in the cities free from contamination and corruption and essential to the continued maintenance of the republican form of government in this commonwealth."

BRADDOCK IS AGAINST GREATER PITTSBURGH

Addresses condemning the plan and favoring a Greater Braddock scheme were made by Attorney William Yost, Postmaster Christian Sheets, John M. Rinard, Justice Jaquay, William H. Williams and George W. Kutscher. The executive committee was directed to use its influence toward "advisable legislation for the consolidation of boroughs and the formation of third class cities." It was decided to raise a fund to fight the Greater Pittsburgh plan.

MRS. MARY FRAUENHEIM DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

Mother of the Former City Treasurer Succumbs to Complication of Diseases.

Mrs. Mary Frauenheim, aged 72, mother of former City Treasurer E. J. Frauenheim, died suddenly at 11:45 last night at her home, 3715 Penn avenue. Mrs. Frauenheim had been suffering from a complication of diseases incident to old age for some time. She was born in Germany and was brought to this country by her parents when two years old. Her father was Joseph Meyer and after landing in the country the family settled in Penn avenue, near Eleventh street, this city. When 16 years old Mrs. Frauenheim was married to Edward Frauenheim, who died in June, 1891.

Mrs. Frauenheim was well known in this city and a large contributor to churches and other charities, her especial care being the orphans. Mrs. Frauenheim by her large contributions to the St. Augustine Catholic church, Lawrenceville, made possible the erection of the handsome big church which that congregation dedicated some years ago at Thirty-fourth and Bank streets. She also contributed largely to the support of St. Josephs Orphan asylum on Troy Hill, Allegheny.

Mrs. Frauenheim is survived by two sons, E. J. and A. A. Frauenheim, both well known business men of this city, and four daughters, Miss Rose Frauenheim, Mrs. William A. Heyl, Mrs. John J. COLOR LINE NOT DRAWN IN ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS

Report That Colored Girl Was Not Allowed to Teach Is Emphatically Denied.

A report to the effect that Jean Hamilton, a colored girl in the senior class of the Allegheny High school, had been denied the privilege of teaching in several ward schools because of her color, is denied by A. C. Latimer, chairman of the High school committee. The story has gained considerable circulation in Allegheny and the report was current that feeling over the matter had been aroused to such extent that some action would be taken at the December meeting of the committee.

It is the custom to permit seniors in the High school to teach in ward schools when temporary vacancies occur. This is done that prospective teachers may get some experience. It was reported that Jean Hamilton, who is a bright student, had several times of late been assigned to schools and that in each case her services were declined because of her color. Mr. Latimer was asked about the story last night and said:

"I don't believe a word of it. It is hard to understand where such a story would start, for there is no foundation for it. I don't know that Jean Hamilton was ever assigned to teach, but if she was, her services were accepted, or we would have heard of it. It would be hard to convince me that the color line could be drawn in educational matters in Allegheny. But the report does not deserve discussion, for it's absurd."

PAUR'S MUSICIANS GIVE YSAYE PERFECT SUPPORT

Cleveland People Enthusiastic Over the Pittsburgh Orchestra—Encores and Extra Number Given.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 22.—The most successful concert the Pittsburgh orchestra has ever given in Cleveland, was heard tonight by the largest and most representative assembly that ever gathered in the Grays' armory. The reception given the orchestra and Conductor Paur was magnificent. It was freely said after the concert that the orchestra under Conductor Paur has been greatly improved.

One of the hardest tests ever given an orchestra was successfully met when Ysaye, who arrived late, asked the musicians to substitute for Bruch's "Schottish Fantasie," the "Ballade Polonaise," by Vieuxtemps. Ysaye had no rehearsal but Conductor Paur agreed to the substitution, although Vieuxtemps' number is exceedingly difficult to perform. The orchestra rendered it in a faultless manner.

In fact, all the work was so excellent that the audience was not satisfied with an encore to every number, but continued the ovation until Conductor Paur gave and extra orchestral number, a rondo for wind instruments, by Beethoven.

AMBITIOUS TO ELECT MAYOR

Orphans Plan to Capture Election Boards With Larkin's Aid.

HE IS MADE PARTY NOMINEE

Thirteen of the original 15 members of the central committee of the Orphans party, which met with a crushing defeat at the councilmanic elections last February, last night held a secret conference at the Hotel Dorset, East End, and nominated John B. Larkin for city controller. Not only did they nominate a candidate for controller, but they laid plans to enter the mayoralty campaign in 1906 by deciding to nominate with the controller, candidates for election officers in every district in Pittsburgh.

An executive committee was appointed which has authority to enter into a combination with either of the other parties regarding fusion or election officers, the Orphan leaders recognizing that they would have little chance of getting any of the election boards in a three-cornered fight. This executive committee consists of W. H. Stevenson, C. S. Crawford and W. C. Reitz.

Those present at the secret meeting consisted of one councilman, two ex-councilmen and Controller Larkin. Besides Controller Larkin there were Dr. J. P. Shaw, Sixth ward; W. H. Stevenson, Fourteenth ward; Thomas O'Brien, Sixteenth ward; C. S. Crawford, Twentieth ward; Dr. George W. McNeil and J. K. Wymard, Twenty-first ward; W. B. Wolfe, Twenty-second ward; Frederick Beehner, Twenty-third ward; John P. Baldauf and Gebhardt Sahner, Twenty-seventh ward; Jacob Soffel, Jr., Thirty-second ward; W. C. Reitz, Thirty-fifth ward.

Eleven Ex-Councilmen Present.

Thomas O'Brien was the lone councilman present. With the exception of C. S. Crawford and W. C. Reitz, who were not candidates last February, every other ex-councilman present last night had been defeated for re-election.

The original Orphans central committee consisted on 15 members, 14 councilmen and Controller Larkin. Two members were missing last night. These were I. W. Shearer of the Thirty-seventh ward and Charles C. Schad of the Thirteenth ward. Messrs. Schad and Shearer were lost immediately after the last municipal election, when they left their comrades and voted for the Verner traction franchise bills. They were not invited to the gathering last night, but an exception was made in the case of Jacob Soffel, Jr., who also aided the passage of the Verner bills by withdrawing from the council meeting.

The Orphan crew attempted to shroud their movements last night in mystery. They kept secret their place of meeting and believed that they had removed all scent when they picked a quiet spot in the East End for their deliberations. Seated around the festive board, laden with flowers and good things to eat and drink, they made happy and planned to elect Larkin controller and also to elect one of their number to the office of mayor a year later.

Stevenson for Mayor.

The latter part of the program was the most important discussed, for they felt confident of electing Larkin, and expressed the belief that Larkin would carry with him the election boards and thus give the Orphans a fighting chance for the mayoralty. It was stated that no names were mentioned at the meeting for mayor, but W. H. Stevenson is understood to be the slated candidate of the party for chief executive and, it is said, an understanding exists between Larkin and Stevenson.

It was announced after the meeting that Stevenson would continue to act as the chairman of the central organization, which will be enlarged to include a representative from every ward.

Stevenson and Crawford stated that it was the intention to put up a full ticket in every ward and election district, and to make a determined effort to elect boards in every district.

May Deal With Citizens.

"Will you make a deal with the Citizens in regard to the election boards?" Crawford was asked.

"I can't say what we will do, but we have made no deal with any person," was his reply. "The executive committee has full power to act."

The conference started before 8 o'clock and lasted until nearly midnight. W. J. Moore, chairman of the Orphans organization in the Fourteenth ward, was present in an advisory capacity. Moore left the Citizens party when refused the police magistracy in the Oakland district. After the meeting it was stated that the following resolution nominating Controller Larkin had been adopted:

Because John B. Larkin has faithfully served the people of Pittsburgh for the past three years as city controller; and, because he has unflinchingly stood by the platform upon which he was elected, being the only city official who has kept, or endeavored to keep, campaign pledges within the past three years; and because we believe the independent voters of this city have implicit faith and confidence in him and desire to see him elected again; now be it

Resolved, That we place his name in nomination, by nomination papers, for city controller, to be voted for at the next election; and it is further

Resolved, That the platform of 1902 is hereby reaffirmed.

RUSSIANS WIN SMALL FIGHTS

Japanese Lose 500 Men in Two Attacks and Are Repulsed.

KUROKI STILL REPORTED DEAD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ZANDAGAW, MANCHURIA (By courier to Mukden), Nov. 22.—The Japanese lost 500 men in the attacks of November 17 and November 18, and were evidently disheartened. When they renewed the attack, November 19, the Japanese sent out several battalions from Double Humped hill, but their movements lacked decision. The Russians opened fire from Poutiloff (Lonetree) hill, and a neighboring eminence. Several shells burst in the midst of the advancing Japanese columns, and quickly checked them. The Japanese also tried a turning operation at Chanlindza, but there, also, they were dispersed.

During the last two days the Chinese have been moving in large numbers from the east northward, taking their wives, children and household goods, in order to save them from the Japanese. They evince more confidence in the Russians than in the Japanese. The Chinese complain the whole country between the Russian and Japanese lines is laid waste. Not a single dwelling is standing.

Gen. Linevitch, commander of the first army, rode around the Russian positions today.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The Mukden correspondent of the Lokal Anziger sends the following:

"Reports of the death of Gen. Kuroki persist in spite of denials, and are revived by Chinese coming from the Japanese camps.

"First Lieutenant Schupko, who has just arrived from Port Arthur, reports the Russians have laid out three lines of defenses, which the Japanese must capture before they reach the city, after which the Russians can retire to the coast forts, which are the strongest of all. The garrison comprises more than 4,000 men."

TOKYO, Nov. 22.—(Special Cable.)—Troops are being hurried to northeastern Korea, and a full army corps soon will be concentrated at Gensan. The impression prevails that preparations are being made for a movement against Vladivostok, or at least to cut the railroad between Vladivostok and Harbin.

NEW YORK WEDDING OF MUCH LOCAL INTEREST

The bride was given away by her brother, William L. Tillotson. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Marion Tillotson. Norris A. Ballou was Mr. Child's best man.

Among those invited to the reception which followed the ceremony were: Mrs. William L. Tillotson, Mrs. J. O. Bloss, Mrs. G. V. Jordan and Misses Adeline Spencer, Katharine Reid and Emma Boggs, of Pittsburgh, schoolmates of the bride, and W. F. Sorey. Mr. and Mrs. Childs, after their wedding trip, will make their home in Baltimore.

STEWART HAMILTON DYING.

Turnkey at Allegheny Central Police Station in a Critical Condition.

Stewart Hamilton, the turnkey at Allegheny Central police station, is in a dying condition at his home in School street. On Monday an operation was performed but since then Hamilton has been sinking slowly.

Hamilton was appointed to the force in 1884 and has been in the service continuously since.

TWO ALDERMEN HELD FOR COURT

Charged With Conspiring With Others to Extort Money from Laura Woods.

CONSTABLES ARE ALSO HELD

Aldermen Isaac C. Levy and Benjamin C. Barton were held yesterday in $500 bail for court on charges of conspiracy to extort money. With Alderman Levy were held his two constables, Lewis Harris and Joseph Abrams, also known as Joseph Miller, each in the same amount of bail. Alderman Barton was accused of conspiring with seven different persons, but of those only Joseph Schwartz, an upholsterer; the alderman's clerk, L. A. Aaronson, and his constable, Peter Auslander, were held. The charges were brought by County Detective Robinson on information received from the district attorney's office.

The hearings were held in Alderman Toole's office and District Attorney Robb appeared for the prosecution, and Senator W. A. Magee, Jr., represented the two accused aldermen and their alleged accomplices.

Laura Woods Tells Her Story.

Laura Woods of 424 Third avenue was called as the first witness in the case against Levy and his constables. She testified she was arrested in October on charges of selling liquor illegally and keeping a disorderly house, by one of Levy's constables. On the date set for the hearing she went to Levy's office, but the case was postponed, the prosecutor's witnesses not being present. She went again and was informed, she said, that if she would pay the costs in the two cases and agree to pay the bill of $87 alleged to be owed by her to Joseph Schwartz, the case would be dismissed. She said Schwartz's bill was only $15, and she had already paid it, still she agreed to pay Schwartz $3 a week until the amount claimed was paid, and then and there paid $13 costs in the two cases and $3 as the first instalment of the already paid Schwartz bill.

Mattie Steger testified she was with Laura Woods when she went to Levy's office the second time, and there the Woods woman maintained she had already paid Schwartz and showed Levy the receipts.

In the case against Barton, Laura Woods testified she was charged with selling liquor illegally and keeping a disorderly house and was taken from her sick bed to Barton's office. She told the alderman, she swore, that she had not lived at the house mentioned for two months prior to the making of the informations. She gave bail in both cases, but Constable Peter S. Auslander, she said, then said he must have $10 or he would take her to jail, whereupon she gave him $5. On the day set for the hearing she went to Barton's office and was informed that Joseph Schwartz was the prosecutor. At Schwartz's request, she said, the hearing was postponed till the next evening, when she was held for court on three charges, giving bail in $500 for each charge.

Informations Still in Existence.

The next Sunday, the witness testified, Aaronson went to her house and said she could have the cases dismissed if she would pay Schwartz's bill of $15, a bill which, she swore, she had once paid to Schwartz's collector, and which she had again agreed to pay through Levy. She went to Barton's office on the day set for the hearing. She said she asked about settling the case, as Aaronson had suggested, and the alderman walked out into his front office, leaving the door open. She said she paid Aaronson $33.90, covering the costs and Schwartz's bill, and Aaronson, bringing in the three informations, tore them up in her presence, saying she should have no more trouble with them. Becky Miller, her housekeeper, corroborated her testimony concerning the payment of the money and the tearing up of the informations.

The prosecution claims to have in its possession the three original informations and professes to be able to show that the informations were not destroyed. Besides, the district attorney maintains, aldermen had no right to settle cases after the defendant has been held for court.

W. J. Skidmore, William Fitzmaurice and Charles Shriner, who have also been sued, did not appear.

SHE WILL GO TO COURT.

Sue Williams of Allegheny City Waived Hearing on Charges Made by Supt. Campbell.

Mrs. Sue Williams of No. 62 West Robinson street, Allegheny, yesterday waived a hearing before Alderman Abernathey on charges of selling liquor on Sunday and with selling liquor without a license. The informations were made by Police Superintendent Campbell of Allegheny and Scott Hancock, a subpatrolman, was to have been the chief witness.

The time set for the hearing was 4 o'clock, and at that time Mrs. Williams appeared and furnished $500 bail in each case, for court. Mrs. Williams' arrest followed the giving of her testimony against Capt. James Wilson, whom she alleges, took $100 from her for the privilege of opening her house.

"CYRANO" IS MUM

The Critic of the Index Has Nothing to Say About the "Angelus" This Week.

WILL REPLY NEXT ISSUE

"Cyrano de Bergerac," the music critic of the Pittsburgh Index, is of the opinion that we have been aiming "blows and knocks at that head of his." We want to assure our esteemed critic that we hadn't his head in mind when we challenged his unusual and audacious misstatements regarding piano players, appearing in the Index November 12.

It was his pen we were aiming at, for evidently his pen slipped. "Cyrano" has said that the Angelus—"these machines"—can't make music.

Nobody ever said they could.

But we do say that the owner of an Angelus can make music of the best kind—music that is a credit to the composer, a satisfaction to the most competent musician and artistic to the degree demanded by the most exacting critic.

And, furthermore, we've offered to prove to "Cyrano" that he can't tell the hand-played from the Angelus-played piano music. If he can, we'll deliver a Hamil-Tone piano to his pet charity. His only answer to our challenge is: "Wait a week." So we'll have to wait. In the meantime, those of our readers whose minds harbor the faintest doubts as to the musical possibilities that are contained in that artistically encased instrument called the "Angelus" are very cordially and earnestly requested to come to Hamilton Hall, 531-533 Wood street, at any hour of the day and test this instrument for themselves.

We can't prove these things to you if you won't give us the chance. We can't demonstrate our proposition if you won't give us a hearing. And we'd like to have you remember that even if you haven't the least idea of buying you'll be welcomed just as cordially if you come to hear the Angelus out of curiosity. If you can't come, we'll be glad to send you a booklet about the Angelus if you'll send us your name and address.

We'd like to send you some information about Christmas things, too; or, better still, we'd like to show you some very beautiful Mason and Hamlin pianos, or those exquisite A. B. Chase small upright pianos, or the New Fischer, Hamil-Tone or Schumann pianos. And then there has just come to us the largest shipment we have ever received of Mira and Stella music boxes. There are also the latest things in Talking Machines, in Guitars, Mandolins, Banjos, Violins, cases, music rolls, books and all such things. A beautiful stock in a beautiful store. Come and see us.

A Surprise for Epicures.

Roast Guinea Hen Dinner, Beginning Friday 50c

After today our special 50c Thanksgiving Turkey Dinners end. They have been received with lavish praise, and this gratifying appreciation has prompted us to introduce a novelty—if such a term can be applied to an edible.

In looking around for an inovation we discovered the faddish menu now being served daily at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, was the one of roast guinea hen.

The meat of this fowl is simply delicious, and while we recognize that it will have to be served in a sort of educational way, we have not the least doubt it will be received by epicures as something very delightful.

So beginning next Friday and continuing from day to day, until further notice, this special dinner will be served for 50c { Roast Guinea Hen. Currant Jelly. Grilled Sweet Potatoes. Bread or Rolls. Coffee or Tea. Steamed Plum Pudding, Hard Sauce.

Today an Exhibit of New Millinery.

It would not be amiss to term it an opening, so extensive is the showing of exclusively new styles. Late models from New York reflecting the Horse Show fashions. There are many new creations in dress hats, fur, tulle, flower and lace for evening and reception wear, all up-to-date evolutions for mid winter use.

Reduced Millinery Prices—

Even this big department has its limitations—new styles must have room, even though we must reduce prices to get it. Although the styles that have been reduced are just as much the vogue as later arrivals, yet from handling they show slight imperfections—noticeable only to the expert eye.

Ready-to-Wear Hats that formerly sold for $3.50 to $4.00, at $2.00 each.

$5.00 Beaver Hats—Turbans, Flats and Continentals, navy, brown, black, $3.50.

Untrimmed Hats that formerly sold for $1.00 and $1.25, at 50c each.

Untrimmed Hats that formerly sold for $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00, now $1.00 each.

"The Masqueraders"—The Best Novel of the Year.

In the Book Nook for $1.08—

Here is a book with an entirely original plot, presenting a story of broadest interest and entirely out of the lines of the beaten track of the novels you have read before.

John Loder, a man of brains and ambitions, who has been denied opportunity, meets in a dense London fog John Chilcote, member of Parliament, of whom much is expected in a political way, but who has drowned his every ambition and power in morphia. By the dim light of a match each discovers in the other a wonderful resemblance to himself. Chilcote, eager to leave behind him the cares of state, purposes that they exchange identities at stated intervals, and Loder, tempted by the possibilities of the situation, accepts. Loder takes Chilcote's place in Parliament, adds luster to his reputation and plays his part so admirably that even Chilcote's wife is deceived.

All the dramatic possibilities of the story are worked up in a splendid manner, which shows the author, Katherine Cecil Thurston, to be a writer of the first class.

It is a book of thorough-going qualities, that anybody who loves a good novel will enjoy reading.

As Attorney General Moody had announced his intention of retiring from public life for the private practice of law even when he was a mere congressman, his decision to remain in the cabinet after March 4 will occasion some surprise. Evidently he sees an opportunity for active work in the promised suits against the trusts, and it is said that he is already preparing to proceed against the beef combination. But he is a comparatively young man, and the prestige of service as attorney general will help him more in law practice after four additional years of experience than it would today, when he has held the office for so short a time. His retention in the president's council board will add the strength of experience to that body.

In Allegheny the administration is preparing to fight for its life and a continuation of the good things it receives. The first step is an assessment levied upon the payroll. Other assessments may be expected as the exigencies of the campaign may dictate. By such means the Allegheny Citizens party intends, if possible to overcome the righteous indignation of the good people of the city, just as the same party in Pittsburgh aims at the same ends. Both administrations have brought themselves into disfavor by violation of every pledge made to the people. They have lost standing as they have forfeited respect. Yet they hope by the exercise of official power and the expenditure of an assessment fund to continue the power they have abused. It is for the people to say whether they shall succeed.

The Gazette printed yesterday a communication giving additional information concerning the acid in the Monongahela river. It is apparent that this running of waste into the stream is highly expensive to many interests which depend on the Monongahela river for water supply and to those engaged in navigating it. It is equally plain that a remedy should be applied by law if it is not undertaken voluntarily. This view is the more reasonable, because it is susceptible of proof that the acid may be converted into a useful product, marketable at a price that will cover, or nearly cover, the expense of protecting the river from the mischievous waste. It is probable, indeed, that the offending industries expend as much on repairs due to the obnoxious element as it would cost to keep it out of the stream.

It seems hard to realize that the United States will be the third naval power in the world when her ships have all been equipped and that she will be second only to Great Britain when all the ones planned have been constructed. The estimates for the navy made by Secretary Morton call for over $114,000,000, or eight times as much as was expended for the same purpose 10 years ago, and our sea force will soon demand an expenditure of over $100,000,000 a year. Meanwhile the number of enlisted men to man the increased ships has been quadrupled in 10 years, while the number of commissioned officers has only been doubled. The wealth and responsibilities of the United States require adequate naval protection, and the strength of the navy appeals too strongly to American pride to allow any reactionary policy to prevail. One advantage of the new navy of the United States will be the fact that nearly all the vessels will be modern as compared with the navies of the old world, many of whose ironsides have become obsolete.

Art circles in America have suffered a great loss in the death of Gen. Di Cesnola, director of the Metropolitan museum in New York city. He hoped to make that the great art museum of the world and was singularly successful in securing for it the support of the wealthy, so that it became the wonder of the foreign visitor, who could not understand how such an institution could have been built up without federal aid. The general was an Italian, who had seen service in the war with Austria and the Crimean struggle. Soon after coming to America he enlisted in the civil war, where he won a medal for bravery. When President Lincoln appointed him consul to Cyprus he became interested in the art relics buried in the tombs, for he proved that in the Cyprian cities the most ancient nations met. Even after the consulship was abolished he spent years in excavation, and his collection of treasures was secured for New York after France had bought them, but was prevented from taking them on account of the war with Germany. To this collection have been added other art treasures and new buildings until the New York museum is one of the best equipped in the world.

New York city hackmen are evidently feeling the loss of trade caused by the "seeing New York" automobile touring cars, for they are seeking to put them out of business. The average stranger in the metropolis wants to see the sights and has welcomed the opportunity furnished by the touring cars, which are provided with guides to point out objects of interest. Now the hackmen claim that the automobile managers must gain the consent of property owners along the route and of the street car companies over whose lines they travel. They have raised a large fund for the legal battle, and it is said the case will be taken to the United States supreme court.

Salaries of Teachers.

Secretary Charles Reisfar's computation of teachers' salaries and the proposed increase puts the financial phase of the matter plainly before the public. The difference between the salaries now paid and those asked by the teachers is definitely stated in dollars and cents in the aggregate and in detail. The sum can be raised by a levy of three-fifths of one mill upon the present taxable valuation of property in the city. That is not a burdensome concession to secure better education for the youth.

Willingness to bear the additional taxation will be governed in large measure by what is offered in return. The teachers have proposed to give greater efficiency. The better salaries, they say, will enable them to give better service, relieving them from the stress of poverty and affording the means to pay for study and instruction in their profession. The proposed schedule is graded according to term of service and the experience that stands for proficiency. This is all good and can be recommended.

What remains in doubt is the assurance that promotions shall be for merit alone; that the school work shall be simplified by the elimination of fads and resistance to the tendency to overload. These things are not wholly within the control of the teachers. The political pull for preferment implies the co-operation of other authorities. But if the organized teachers will resolve to expose publicly every attempt at graft and every exercise of undue influence they can command the situation in that respect. They can count on the support of the public. So, too, with the school work, if they will stand unitedly for the highest standard of simplicity they will win in the end. If they will do these things they will be well worth all the salary they ask.

Personal Registration.

There will be a vigorous demand upon the state legislature, especially from Philadelphia, for a personal registration law. An amendment to the constitution has been adopted to enable such a regulation, and though it was approved by an indifferent vote the legislature will have no reasonable excuse for refusing to give it statutory force. Personal registration is a proper regulation of the suffrage, especially in cities, and tends to safeguard the purity of elections.

The most urgent demands for personal registration come from Democratic leaders and the ever active band of Philadelphia "reformers." These two classes must have some explanation for their constant defeats at the polls, and they have chosen a stereotyped charge that the ballot is corrupted by repeaters whose opportunity is created by padded registry lists. There is not much foundation for this stale story. What foundation there is has probably grown out of its ceaseless repetition. But the enactment of a personal registration law will put an end to the charge and thus promote morality.

Of course, when the law is passed and put into operation the hated "Republican machine" of Philadelphia will see that its voters shall take the pains to have themselves registered. The "reformers" will probably neglect this practical step in qualifying themselves to vote. Many of them never vote anyway. As for the Democrats, to use the ungrammatical phrase of the ward worker, "there ain't none." At least they are few and decreasing in numbers. The result will be larger Republican majorities, and in time a louder howl for some other change in the election laws. Nevertheless the Republican majority in the legislature owes to itself and the public the duty of providing personal registration for city voters so as to eliminate possibilities of fraud which now exist.

The Irrigation Fund.

The fact was brought out at the recent irrigation congress that there has been received from the sale of public lands over $23,000,000, which must be spent for irrigation purposes. Under the law the amount expended in each state has no reference to the sum derived from the sale of government land in that state, but must be entirely in the discretion of the secretary of the interior. Hence the political worker sees a chance for arousing the jealousy of certain states and securing an apportionment which he considers more "equitable." Moreover, he is astonished at the fact that such a large amount should be distributed by the government without the intervention of a commission for the purpose which shall also control patronage.

It is undoubtedly due to the interest President Roosevelt took in the new law that politicians were eliminated from its provisions, but now a determined attempt will be made to have congress provide some salaried agents who shall have charge of the distribution of the money. The theory on which the law works is that all the land sold belongs to the government rather than the state within which it is located, and it should thus be used for the benefit of all the states. Formerly this income was turned over to the treasury department and used for general expenses, such as the construction of battleships, but now it must all be reserved for irrigation improvement. Further than that the irrigated district must pay back in ten years the money expended for its development, so that there will always be a fund for building canals and reservoirs and repairing them.

Certain of the states in the arid land area are not as easy of cultivation by irrigation as others, for some are mountainous, so as to provide reservoirs and contain available streams, while others are mere barren plains. So the government has chosen the most adaptable land for the first experiments in irrigation, knowing that there will be money enough for the more difficult experiments later if the law is not repealed. The men in charge of the work are trained experts, and it is hoped that the scheme of the law will be well carried out without the interference of the political hack who has brought corruption into so many departments of the public service.

Legislative Reapportionment.

Among the subjects that press for consideration by the coming legislature is that of reapportionment. There can hardly be any excuse for neglecting this duty in respect to legislative districts. The senatorial problem is, however, an extremely difficult one. Allegheny county is entitled to an additional member in the senate, but it is not easy to see where the subtraction shall be made. In fact, no reapportionment of senatorial districts can be made that will be more just than the present unless counties are carved into sections and divided among separate districts.

Representative apportionment is much easier. Relative populations have shifted greatly since the last apportionment was made. Allegheny county, for example, has grown so it is entitled to four more members of the house than it now has. Some other counties retain more members than they should have because their population has practically stood still. Few have actually decreased. There should be a readjustment without delay to remove these inequalities, and there is reason to expect the legislature will take the matter up at the opening of the session in January and pass a satisfactory bill. The constitution demands it, and there is no good reason why the mandate should not be promptly obeyed.

Rural Telephones.

In the northern and northwestern counties of this state there is at the present time a remarkable development of telephone communication. Following the example of some western states, the people of those counties have organized many local companies to construct telephone lines. These companies, too, are joining their wires so the subscriber is not confined to his local district. Farmers along the lines are enthusiastic patrons and even mechanics are putting in instruments, the pro rata expense being no more than they can afford. No doubt in time these local systems will attain to relations with the large companies and thus secure means of communication with the most distant points.

This general use of the telephone in rural districts will have a profound influence upon country life. The trolley road will assist in the transformation. It can go almost anywhere at comparatively slight expense. The operation of these two electrical devices will put an end to the isolation and monotony of farm life and will very likely induce a counter current of emigration from the cities to the country to compensate the tide flowing from country to city. It is not improbable, however, that they will at first increase the emigration from the farms by giving farm lads and lassies an impression that city life is all pleasure. If so, it may be taken for granted that afterward these same country-bred boys and girls will add themselves to the counter current and turn their faces back again to the farm. Certainly telephone and rural trolley road will quicken the movement of the countryside and facilitate the interchange of populations according to individual tastes.

It is a pity Colorado's troubles cannot be taken to some other state for adjudication. The inflamed public sentiment of that state is so desperately partisan that it is difficult to get justice out of any proceedings.

Answers to Correspondents.

O. P. Hess—Thomas Jefferson, according to popular estimate, was the founder of the Democratic party and the developer of the theory of state rights. On these foundations are based the so-called Jeffersonian principles. He was one of the founders of the republic, ranking with Washington and Franklin, but as the exponent of principles dealing with all time he raised questions that are still disputed, while the fame of the others may be said to have been established beyond contradiction. The dominant principle of Jefferson's creed was that all powers belong to the people. He was also the exponent of simplicity in the conduct of life.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Ideas entertained by President Roosevelt received fresh tribute today to the birth of three bouncing baby boys—triplets—at the home of Mrs. Edward Compton, increasing the number of Compton children to 16, among which is one pair of twins. Another pair of twins of which Mrs. Compton was once the happy mother, is dead. The first of the triplets born was at once named Theodore Roosevelt by his patriotic mother. The two other babies have not yet been named, but Mrs. Compton says she will name them for some of the president's adherents, perhaps Fairbanks or Cortelyou. The remarkable testimonial to President Roosevelt's anti-race suicide policy are tied up in ribbons to resemble an American flag. Theodore Roosevelt is tied with red ribbon, his next younger brother with white and the youngest with blue. The twins Carrie and Gussie, aged 5, hung around the bed in wonderment today looking at the unexpected addition to the family. Out of the 16 children 9 are living. The father works in a piano manufactory and is a man of limited means. The sudden acquisition of three lusty boys has set the whole family to wondering what they will do to take care of them. The youngsters the fine, healthy babies, and each of them weighed seven pounds. The eldest of the Compton children is Viola, aged 15.

Work Stops on New Park.

Much to the disappointment of residents and children of the neighborhood, work has been stopped on St. Gabriels park at East Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets, between First and Second avenues. The old tenements and stores which occupied the site a year ago have been removed and the ground filled in, but the walks have not been cemented and there are no signs of grass plots. As for the gymnasium and public bath, not even the foundation has been laid. A plain board fence now encloses the embryo park, and during the daytime when the gates are open children romp and play among piles of dirt. At the office of Kelly & Kelly, contractors, who are laying out the park, it was said the park department had decided to postpone asphalting and cementing the walks and gymnasium floor until spring in order that the newly made ground may settle.

Kroonland Floats Into Port.

The Red Star line steamship Kroonland from Antwerp and Dover, arrived this morning. The story she had been lost at sea was repeated when the vessel was in communication by wireless, and caused great surprise on board. The officers report the vessel met with no mishap and that she had good weather. That the report of the vessel was taken seriously in Antwerp is shown by the number of cable messages received by members of the crew from their relatives asking them to cable word on their arrival. Among the arrivals on the Kroonland was Mme. Jeannette Jomelli, the singer who was heard last winter in the drawing rooms of New York. She comes here to sign a contract with Conried. Another arrival was Miss Rosa Zamele, the violinist who was here with Mme. Patti. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Lillian, the pianist. Gen. R. M. O'Reilly, surgeon general of the United States army, returned after a tour in Italy and Spain.

"Black Hand" or a Joker?

Jennie Watson, 19 years old, has asked the aid of the police of the West Forty-seventh street station to protect her from the threats contained in a "Black Hand" letter she has received. The letter bears a skull and crossbones and bleeding hearts pierced by daggers. Miss Watson says the letter was handed to her at noon yesterday when she returned home for luncheon. She was greatly distressed by the letter. It read: "Dear Madame—I have been watching you of late and have fallen in love at first sight. Now I have resolved to get you or die. I mean to do you bodily harm. So beware; your time is limited. I am not a rich man and need some money; so if you don't have $50 tied up in a handkerchief and left on the northeast corner of Fiftieth street and Eleventh avenue at 8 p. m., Thursday night you will die.

"P. S.—Beware, young lady, as I have got you tracked to the very last stages of the game; I have watched you working. And if you do not consent to my request I shall certainly do the worst, if it should come to that. I have tried to catch your eye several times, but 'twas of no avail. I will glory in your precious blood."

Denies That She Will Wed Singer.

Denial is made by a man who says he is a friend of Mrs. Fannie Surdam Stelle that Mr. Stelle has any intention of becoming the wife of Edgar R. Accetta, or that she has made any settlement upon him. A suit for breach of promise brought by Accetta is still pending, and the report of a compromise is declared to be entirely false. Mrs. Stelle did show kindness toward Accetta, who is one of the singers in whom she took a friendly interest, and had entertained him as a guest, but she is said to be much distressed at the report that she is to be married to him. That such is not her intention is stated in very positive terms. Further statement is made that Mrs. Stelle is the innocent victim of rumors that have absolutely no foundation.

Bulldogs Blamed for It All.

War to the knife has been declared between the Delta Psi fraternity house and the Columbia court apartments on Riverside drive, between One Hundred and Fifteenth and One Hundred and Sixteenth streets. It appears the bull terriers owned by the Columbia college men who live in the chapter house and those owned by the inhabitants of the apartment house had a meeting a short while ago, and if the college men mistake not their dogs won. For a time after the battle the air on that part of Riverside drive was so warm that the Delta Psi men shipped their dogs out of town. They thought this would satisfy the dog owners in Columbia court, but seemingly, it did not. They only remained quiet for a while, but all the time they nursed their revenge. Feeling assured of their standing with their neighbors the college boys opened up shop again this week and from all accounts they have been making Rome howl every night. Columbia court people threaten an injunction.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

I have been thinking of teachers,
And the place they fill in life,
Since some one asked the question
"Would a teacher make a good wife?"

The question I cannot answer,
Unless a good wife should be
Full of patient love and courage,
Then I would say, "Most certainly."

They sow the seeds of learning
Broadcast on every side,
And patiently wait for the harvest
Whatever may now betide.

The teachers must look to the future
For the harvest of their crop,
However unhopeful the present,
They must neither falter nor stop.

But take up their duties bravely,
And push them to the end,
Thinking only of future great ones
That into the world they send.

A. D. THOMPSON.

Finleyville, Pa.

It is not necessary that a woman shall be a good poet in order that she may be a good school teacher. If it were so, our schools would suffer terribly.

Some teachers write verse, as poets say, and some write it well, at least well enough to answer a good purpose, for verse, you know, is restful after so much prose—pie after a plain dinner. Real poetry would be as peaches and cream.

The country must have good teachers, for without them it is liable to go to the dogs, or get into some sort of bad way.

How shall the country manage to get and to hold good teachers?

This is one of the important questions of the day, or rather of the hour, and it is most gratifying to find the people taking so much interest in its discussion.

How do business men, and successful business concerns, manage to secure and to retain capable talent?

By careful selection, just compensation, and fair treatment generally.

The same rule ought to work as well in our great educational enterprises. In fact, it has always worked well, and it always will, for it is a good common sense rule.

* * * * *

Dr. A. E. Winship in his recent address in Carnegie hall on teachers' salaries, stated the points so clearly and so concisely that we cannot do better than to quote from his own notes.

"It is not a pleasant experience to pay taxes. For every $1,000 that a man owns up to having, he must pay about $15 a year, that is about $1.50 a year on every $100. Few of us really like to do it, and few men are honest with assessors.

"So long as this is true, it is not surprising that the taxpayer does not take kindly at first to any suggestion looking to the increase of taxes, but he is likely to quiet down when he faces the facts. To increase the wages of every teacher in this city $50 means less than a good cigar to a man assessed $1,000. He would have to be worth $15,000 to have it mean as much as it would to get tickets to take his wife or any other woman to the theater. The truth is that the effect of increasing the salary of every teacher $100 does not materially add to the tax rate.

"The only question, then, is one of investment. It is not a question what the teachers wish or what they desire, nor what the parents wish or desire,—but what is the best investment?

"Which is the best investment, to have the traditional old-time woman teaching the children, or to have a woman who is 'a thing of beauty and a joy forever?'

"More than 200 years ago, William Cowper in 'The Task' treated with almost savage frankness the man who would entrust his children to a teacher who is not good enough to sit at his table. After showing that the greatest interest any man can have is the right teaching of his children, and that the person who can rightly teach them and rescue them from the herd of tempters to evil, Cowper says:

"'But having found him, be thou duke or earl Show thou hast sense enough to prize the pearl.'"

"Then and now, it is more important to make the best possible investment in the schools than in the mines, quarries, railroads or government bonds. It is the only investment that can be made in flesh and blood, in brain and heart. The only systematic training that the children of Pittsburgh, as a whole, get for thrift, for character, for citizenship they get in the public schools.

"And all that the school is depends upon the teachers. You may erect marble palaces for schoolhouses, you may have a curriculum that would have suited a Plato, text books that are masterpieces, and a superintendent such as the gods alone could fashion, and even then you have no school, you have done nothing for the child until you have near him and leading him a teacher, one of the pearls of whom Cowper wrote."

* * * * *

One of the great troubles we have to contend with in this city, and in the county generally, is the woeful ignorance of the people concerning taxation.

You may think that by keeping valuation down, that is, by listing your taxables at half their real value, your taxes will be correspondingly less.

This is not true.

It would be true if the rate of taxation was fixed, but since the rate depends entirely on the sum to be raised, the greater the valuation of property the less will be the rate of taxation.

Of course, valuations must be uniform in order that all may be taxed alike. But to raise a certain sum on property worth a million the rate of taxation will have to be doubled if the property is listed at half a million.

If taxable property in this city was listed at its market value the rate of taxation would not be much more than half what it is.

But as it is now the taxpayers would never know, if not told by some one, that teachers' salaries had been raised one-half.

And if they should know it there would be no serious objection to paying the increase.

An Unusual Compliment.

In offering to Senator Cockerell the vacant isthmian canal commissionership the president has paid him an unusual compliment, for he informs him at the same time that, if considerations of health constrain him to decline it, an appointment to the interstate commerce commission awaits his acceptance. In one of those two important posts, therefore, it may be hoped that the senator will find a congenial opportunity to employ his excellent talents and sound judgment for the general benefits. This practical expression of the president's high regard for the Missouri statesman, fully according with the estimate in which he is everywhere held, is a gratifying incident of political life.—New York Tribune.

Voice of the People

River Improvement.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—Your editorial in Monday's issue of The Gazette under the head line "River Improvement Prospects" gave rivermen great satisfaction and covers present conditions quite correctly. Considerable work of radical improvement is under way and has been for some years, but is as yet of no advantage to navigation and will not be until the locks and dams now under way of construction are completed and connected, furnishing continuous navigation as far as they cover the river. Their full benefit will only be realized when the pooled waters of the Ohio river unites with the navigable waters of the Mississippi river at Cairo. Rivermen are also very much gratified with the broad views and suggestive words of Senator Knox as published in Tuesday's issue of The Gazette. The signs of the times are hopeful of better business conditions for our city, but larger transportation facilities are essentially necessary. This is made clearer every year. The products of our shops and mills must reach customers without the ever recurring delays, and supplies for mill and shop must be at command when needed. The writer has endeavored from time to time, as opportunity has allowed, to make this plain and while I voice the necessity for greater railway facilities for transportation, there is equally as strong a demand for the largest possible increase of water transportation. Pittsburgh needs both systems and needs them now. The problem is how can the business men of this city be aroused to the imperious necessity of sufficient transportation for the prompt movement of our enormous tonnage? At the late river convention Mr. Hall, United States engineer, read a paper of great interest and I beg to make extracts as evidence of the far-reaching importance of water transportation. Mr. Hall's words are as follows:

"You have all heard of the Manchester canal, which was opened about 10 years ago at a cost of about $75,000,000, in order to give the manufacturing district about Manchester, England, an adequate water way to the sea. Manchester is in the midst of one of the greatest manufacturing districts of the world.

"Pittsburgh and the country along the upper Ohio, although young, is, also one of the greatest manufacturing districts of the world, not only of the heavier iron products, but also of the lighter iron and of other products not made from iron. Like the Manchester district this Ohio river valley is inland.

"The people of the Manchester district have learned that an adequate water way to the sea is essential, and that its factories could not live without it. Just so, will all the factories along the Ohio learn that an adequate water way to the sea is essential to their future growth and prosperity.

"At the international engineering congress last month, W. Henry Hunter, chief engineer of the Manchester ship canal, read a paper, the subject of which was 'Artificial Waterways.' There is so much in it applicable to the Ohio, if you will bear with me for a few moments longer, I will briefly quote from him as follows:

"'In the years between 1880 and 1890 it was only too apparent that in Manchester and its environment of manufacturing towns, decadence was stamped upon almost every industry, and that all progress was arrested. One manufacturer after another moved his works to the seaboard, leaving disused factories, empty warehouses, and uninhabited dwellings to bear an ominously concurrent testimony to the inability of the community to maintain the pre-eminent position which had been the crown of the history for 18 centuries.'

"The operation of the Manchester ship canal has directly or indirectly affected beneficially as whole of the greatest industrial district on the face of the earth; a district of which the present population does not fall short of 10,000,000 persons; while in the more limited area of which the city of Manchester is the heart and center, many industries have been saved from extinction and many others from decline and ultimate decay.

"Not only has decline been arrested and decay averted, but lines of new and vigorous growth have shot and are shooting out on every side, north, south, east, west, there is no exception, expansion is universal; old industries have been introduced, and has been due solely to the effect and influence of the canal.

"There is no one point in public policy of greater import than this at the present time. 'Trade is now the one grand object of contention with governments and people,' says Frederick Greenwood, and none will say him nay, for as surely as in the days of our forefathers, nations struggle between themselves for tribute from others, and the issues are vital—it is verily a struggle for existence. In such a struggle the best equipped community must have the advantage and must succeed and survive, while the community stands still where others are pressing forward must fall back, must fail and commercially perish.

"Experience has shown (1) that cheap and ready transport is an essential factor for the success of any trading community, and (2) that transport of such character can only be assured where water ways deliver the trader from the iron grip of monopoly. The statement, therefore, that water ways, operative and effective water ways, must form part of the equipment of any progressive nation which would hold its own in the struggle with its contemporaries, becomes simply the third term in a syllogism."

These impressive facts are commended to the careful consideration of all interested.

JOHN F. DRAVO.

Large Steer of Long Ago.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—The two-ton steer editorial in The Gazette Saturday, November 19, caused me to look up history and the following is what I found: "A bullock, 7 years old, raised in Morris county, New Jersey, by Mr. Blanchard and fed by M. Dubs of Philadelphia, live weight, 2,842 pounds; two hind quarters, 815¾ pounds; two fore quarters, 1,201¾ pounds; rough tallow, 188 pounds; hide, 145 pounds; height 5 feet 10 inches; across the brisket clear of bone 9 inches; through the plate and brisket 10¼ inches; clear fat on the rib 5½ inches; on the sirloin 4 inches; on the rump 3½ inches, and on the black, clear of bone, 3½ inches. Sold to J. Moore and William Warner and slaughtered by them March 20, 1811. Price $1,000; the hide sold for $10; tongue $5, and tallow $3."

While at it, a little further history shows: "The Harmony society of Butler county, Pa., purchased of Mr. Muller 200 pounds of Merino wool in the spring of 1811 at $2 a pound."

Another: "Five cents a pound for clean linen and cotton rags will be given as usual at the Franklin Head Bookstore, Pittsburgh, Pa." All in the same year.

Wail from Wilkinsburg.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—The people of the Wilkinsburg valley have good reason for celebrating Thanksgiving this year, as though they have had no water for three days no fire has occurred. But what can be said in defense of a water company which subjects a community of nearly 30,000 people to the dangers of fire and to all the great inconvenience and peril of empty water pipes, either because it wants to secure large dividends or is too negligent to provide extra pumps. A corporation which secures the privileges of such a business owes something to the community and should be forced to exercise sufficient care. A good lawsuit may wake them up, if they are unaffected by public opinion. The day should be past when such excuses as these officers offer can be accepted. Let them get more brains, or spend more money, and there may be less sickness and fires.

Crude was his song; his pen but feebly spoke

PAYROLL MUST PAY FOR CAMPAIGN

Allegheny City Employes Are Being Assessed to Make Independent Fight Possible.

WILL OPPOSE REPUBLICANS

With no hope of accomplishing anything in the Republican primaries in January, the Allegheny administration leaders have decided to put an independent ticket in the field in opposition to the Republican candidates for councils. To insure a battle royal a big campaign fund is to be raised, and in almost every ward of the city war will be waged on those whose names appear on the Republican ticket. This fund is to be raised mainly from an assessment on all city employes, and notices to this effect have been given already to a portion of the pay roll. Those employed in the water bureaus got their notices Monday and yesterday, and the men in other bureaus will receive their notices in a few days. They are informed that for "legitimate campaign expenses" each man must subscribe 2 per cent of his salary. One per cent is to be taken from the wages paid this month and the balance on January 1, next.

No greater was the surprise of those upon whom notice was served that the notice became public almost immediately. The value of a close mouth, however, was soon impressed upon the men, but it was then too late.

Nice Campaign Fund.

Excluding the salaries of the city officials and employes of the Carnegie library, who will not be assessed, the assessment will aggregate more than $25,000. These figures are computed on the monthly pay roll. This sum is to be dumped into a fund to be used to defeat the regular Republican candidates nominated at the January primaries, if such a thing be possible.

This action on the part of the administration gives credence to the report that there will be an independent ticket arrayed against the Republicans in the councilmanic fight in the spring. A careful perusal of the Republican party rules has convinced the administration leaders that there is simply no chance for them to carry their candidates through at the primaries in January. The barrier against which administration candidates would run is that part of rule 5 which reads:

That the ward executive committee shall have the power to refuse to place on the ticket the name of any person who is not a known Republican. A person so refused shall have the right to appeal to the city executive committee, whose decision in the premises shall be final.

Many Political Conferences Held.

There have been many conferences of late between Wyman and those who intend to cast their lot with him in the coming fight. The result of these mutual swappings of confidences have been kept a secret, and no direct statement can be got from anyone. It is common report, however, that there is to be an independent ticket and that the candidates who will oppose the Republicans will likely call themselves "Independents." The title "Citizens" is to be cast off as being identified with a past record that the Wyman people have no desire to have revived.

One of Wyman's most frequent visitors for weeks past has been William A. Ford, common councilman from the Second ward. Ford is to make an independent fight for a place in select council against Francis J. Torrance, the incumbent. Torrance has sent out personal letters to every voter whose name appears on the registry lists. This first step has just been taken, and is regarded as the initiative by Ford and his friends. The latter have commenced an active canvass of the ward, and the pay roll in the big Second has got its orders to commence its missionary work in earnest.

Hoping to Force Terms.

There are those who declare that with Ford's record in councils in the past 18 months he could not be re-elected to the common branch, and his apparent preparation for a fight with Torrance is simply a desperate bluff being made in the hope that it will wring from the Republicans a deal which will allow the administration and its followers some voice in the management of the Republican party.

Plans are being laid for a bitter fight in the Thirteenth ward. The administration has taken up Justus Schroedel as its candidate for select council in opposition to John Hock, who has served in that branch for the past six years. Since his election Schroedel has worked and voted consistently with Wyman's wishes. He is rounding out his first term in councils and is confident he can defeat Hock. The latter is disliked by Wyman, who has given Hock several material manifestations of this feeling, in removing from the pay roll Hock's relatives and friends.

There is a possibility that John R. Henricks, who represents the Eleventh ward in common council, will be a candidate for select council, in opposition to John C. Oliver. The latter will be on the Republican ticket for re-election. Henricks will neither confirm nor deny the report that he aspires to succeed Oliver.

Old Men Want to Return.

If those serving in common council have their wish there will be few new faces in that branch after the election. With few exceptions every one of them will be up for re-election. The position of each has been clearly defined in fights that have been made in councils. Distinct party lines have been drawn in several battles, notably the effort to make a change in the present manner of conducting the delinquent tax office, and the stand taken by the members will give an idea of who will and who will not run for re-election as Republican candidates.

In the Tenth ward Jos. Hilldorfer will drop out, having no desire to serve again. Geo. W. Snaman, former select councilman from the Tenth, will be a candidate for common council on the Republican ticket. It is known that many of those now in councils got there simply because they were on the ticket with Wyman two years ago, and could never have won on their personal strength. Most of these have stood by Wyman in all things and their names will not be seen on the Republican ticket.

THIS STATE NEXT TIME.

"M. & M." Will Visit Northwestern Pennsylvania With an Outbound Excursion.

The "trade excursion" committee of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association yesterday decided upon Northwestern Pennsylvania as the territory to be covered by the next outbound excursion. The date will not be fixed for some time to come, as it is not considered desirable to run these excursions during bad weather. It was decided to have a vote of the membership on the question of dates for the semi-annual inbound excursions.

The plan for trade excursions contemplates four outbound and two inbound each year. The outbound excursions fall into eight trips, so that the association will visit the same locality every two years.

The committee in charge of the "social meeting" to be held at the Union club next Tuesday evening is making good progress with the work and is looking forward to one of the largest and most successful functions the association has ever held.

LOCAL OPTION BY DISTRICT.

Anti-Saloon League to Present Legislative Bill Allowing This Privilege.

Supt. C. E. Page of the Allegheny County Anti-Saloon league announced yesterday that the local option bill to be presented to the next legislature will provide for the right to adopt local option by district vote. Dr. Page admitted it would be impossible to carry large cities for local option, but urged that sections of any city should be given the privilege of ousting the saloon.

According to Dr. Page, a vigorous campaign will be instituted by the local organization during the coming license court and two attorneys will be engaged to fight applications.

BURNED THE TOWN LOCKUP FOR FUN

Policeman and Borough Clerk of Turtle Creek Held for Court on Arson Charge.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE EXPLAINED

Albert J. Johnston, clerk of Turtle Creek borough, and Thomas Rhodes, a police officer of the borough, were yesterday afternoon held for trial at court on charges of arson, it being alleged the defendants, with Earl Boon, a member of the borough volunteer fire department, set fire to and destroyed the borough lockup. The hearing was held before Alderman Stephen J. Toole, on information made by Elmer E. Jobe, burgess of Turtle Creek. Boon was not present at the hearing and it is alleged he has left town.

The borough lockup was destroyed by fire about 2 a. m. on Sunday, September 25, and it is alleged two attempts were made to burn the building before the incendiaries succeeded. James Campbell testified he accompanied the defendants on both their trips to the lockup, and that he saw the building set on fire. Frank Skelton, a member of the borough fire department, also testified he was with the fire bugs when the building was fired the second time. Campbell alleges Rhodes asked him to wait till he called a man who arose early and that when he returned he would see some fun.

When Rhodes returned, Campbell alleges they went to where Borough Clerk Johnston and Firemen Boon and Skelton were sitting on some steps and talked for a time. Then Boon and Skelton went to the lockup, but in a short time returned and reported the building was too wet to burn. Campbell then stated that he, Rhodes and Boon went to the engine house and secured some wood with oil on it and gave it to Boon, who left with Skelton. Johnston and Rhodes left later and Campbell says he went to sleep on a table in the council chamber. When the fire alarm was sounded, about 30 minutes later, Campbell testified he went to the lockup and it was in flames.

Skelton testified he was in the house when the alarm was sounded and that he went to the engine house and then to the fire. On returning to the engine house Skelton said Rhodes asked him to take a walk and they went to where Boon and Johnston were sitting. He alleges Rhodes asked him to again set fire to the lockup, but he refused and Boon agreed to do it. He then accompanied Boon to the lockup, but on finding it was wet they returned and then Johnston, Boon and Skelton went to look the lockup over. Skelton alleges Rhodes said he was responsible for the first fire and showed the party how he had placed a lighted candle between the cell partitions. Skelton alleges that Rhodes tried to set the building on fire with matches, in their presence, but did not succeed. The party then met Campbell and secured the oiled wood at the engine house, and then Skelton and Boon took it to the lockup, Boon going inside. Shortly after Boon came out, Skelton alleges the building burst into flames.

As the offense of arson is unbailable before an alderman, Rhodes and Johnston had provided themselves with certificates issued by the court and Alderman Toole accepted these and the defendants each furnished $3,000 bail. Attorney Rody P. Marshall, who represented the defendants, stated after the hearing that he would cause informations to be made charging Campbell and Skelton with arson.

NO MONEY TO PAY FOR ELECTION BOARDWALK

Only 13 Cents Appropriation for Twenty-Second Ward—Job That Elected Bockstoce.

It appears there is no money in the city appropriations to pay for the new boardwalk in the Twenty-second ward which is said to have been responsible for the election of Dr. J. O. Bockstoce to councils last Friday. It is claimed that this boardwalk gained Dr. Bockstoce 23 votes, his majority over his opponent, Franklin P. Booth, being but 11 votes.

For a long time the people in the vicinity of the salt works in North Homestead precinct had been promised a boardwalk by the council representatives of the Twenty-second ward, but they did not get it until a few days before the election. The administation managers learned of the grievance, and William Shore, Jr., an assistant engineer of the bureau of construction, was sent out to build the boardwalk, work being started on Sunday. The walk was laid, and as a result the votes of those living in the vicinity were gained for Dr. Bockstoce, the administration candidate.

Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow showed by the books yesterday there is not enough money in the appropriation for boardwalks in the Twenty-second ward to pay for this election job. He showed that $1,200 was appropriated this year for boardwalks and steps in the Twenty-second ward, but only 13 cents of this sum remains to the credit of the appropriation, $1,199 87 having been spent during the year. He said there had been no balance carried over from last year, as Shore claims.

The department of public works, therefore, will probably introduce a resolution in councils to transfer money from some other fund to pay for the boardwalk.

INTERESTING, IF TRUE.

You Can Try It For Yourself and Prove It.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat, eggs or other wholesome food, and this claim has been proven by actual experiment which anyone can perform for himself in the following manner: Cut hard boiled eggs into very small pieces, as it would be if masticated, place the egg and two or three tablets in a bottle or jar containing warm water heated to 98 degrees (the temperature of the body) and keep it at this temperature for three and one-half hours, at the end of which time the egg will be as completely digested as it would have been in the healthy stomach of a hungry boy.

The point of this experiment is that what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do to the egg in the bottle it will do to the egg or meat in the stomach and nothing else will rest and invigorate the stomach so safely and effectually. Even a little child can take Stuart's Tablets with safety and benefit if its digestion is weak and the thousands of cures accomplished by their regular daily use are easily explained when it is understood that they are composed of vegetable essences, aseptic pepsin, diastase and Golden Seal, which mingles with the food and digests it thoroughly, giving the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate.

Dieting never cures dyspepsia, neither do pills and cathartic medicines, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines.

When enough food is eaten and promptly digested there will be no constipation, nor in fact will there be disease of any kind, because good digestion means good health in every organ.

The merit and success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are world-wide and they are sold at the moderate price of 50 cts. for full-sized package in every drug store in the United States and Canada, as well as in Europe.

TREASURER MAKES COUNTY AN OFFER

It Is Now Believed Fee Collections Will Be Settled Without Suit.

WILL TEAR DOWN JAIL WALL

The county commissioners had a meeting with the county controller yesterday to consider retaining a lawyer to bring suit against the county treasurer and other county officials to recover fees which it is claimed were collected and retained by them, but which, under a decision of the supreme court in an eastern case, belong to the county and state.

During the meeting an offer was received from County Treasurer Collingwood, which is believed to be to the effect that he will willingly return the fees collected, if it is decided that they do not belong to him, and that a suit will accordingly be unnecessary, unless it be in the nature of an amicable action. He was advised to put his offer in writing, when it will be considered by the commissioners and the controller. No attorney was engaged, but the matter was talked over generally and the meeting adjourned until Collingwood's formal offer is received.

The county commissioners are not worried over the allegation made by Attorney Morton Hunter that Allegheny county has no official seal. The question was raised in the condemnation of Caroline Smith's property for additional jail purposes.

Commissioner Mercer said neither the commissioners nor the court agreed with the attorney. The present seal has been in use for over 30 years and has always been affixed to all documents requiring seals, such as the riot bonds, court house bonds, and many road and county bonds had been sold with this seal on it. They are responsible for the property in any event, and will give bond as required by court.

Warden James Lewis is worried. The new addition to the jail contemplates the tearing down of a portion of the high wall surrounding the yard, and he wants to be relieved of the responsibility should any prisoner escape during the work. A meeting of the quarterly committee of the Allegheny county prison board was held yesterday and the members, consisting of Judge Brown, Mayor Hays and Commissioners Mercer and Evans, visited the jail to study the situation. Warden Lewis believes the new wall should be built first and then he would be in a position to see that the prisoners have no opportunity to escape. He wants the present plans changed, but County Commissioner Mercer says he sees no more chance to escape now than before.

After viewing the situation, a meeting with the architect, contractor and warden took place, and the committee gave the contractor permission to tear down the east wall, after he erects a fence or brick wall on top of the boiler house, to prevent prisoners from escaping or persons from entering the jail yard. The object is to build foundations before the bad weather sets in.

CATARRH OF THE LUNGS OFTEN FIRST STAGE OF CONSUMPTION.

MISS FLORENCE KENAH.

This Pretty Girl Saved From Catarrh of the Lungs By Pe-ru-na.

Miss Florence E. Kenah, 434 Maria street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"A few months ago I caught a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and remained there so persistently that I became alarmed. I took medicine without benefit, until my digestive organs became upset, and my head and back began to ache severely and frequently.

"I was advised to try Peruna, and although I had little faith, I felt so sick that I was ready to try anything. It brought me blessed relief at once, and I felt that I had the right medicine at last. Within three weeks I was completely restored, and have enjoyed perfect health since.

"I now have the greatest faith in Peruna."—Florence E. Kenah.

WOMEN SHOULD BEWARE OF CONTRACTING CATARRH.

The cold wind and rain, slush and mud of November are especially conducive to catarrh of the lungs. Few women escape.

Upon the first symptoms of catching cold Peruna should be taken. Colds lead to catarrh. Catarrh ends in consumption. Delays are dangerous.

Pe-ru-na for Colds and Catarrh.

The following interesting letter gives one young woman's experience with Peruna:

Miss Rose Gerbing, a popular society woman of Crown Point, Ind., writes:

"Recently I took a long drive in the country, and being too thinly clad, I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and which I could not seem to shake off. I had heard a great deal of Peruna for colds and catarrh and I bought a bottle to try. I am pleased that I did, for it brought speedy relief. It only took about two bottles, and I consider this money well spent.

"You have a firm friend in me, and I not only advise its use to my friends, but have purchased several bottles to give to those without the means to buy, and have noticed without exception that it has brought about a speedy cure wherever it has been used."—Rose Gerbing.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

DEATH BY DRUGS PUZZLES CORONER

Further Investigation Into the Death of Mrs. Amelia Hope of Lawrenceville.

BOY DIED ON A STREET CAR

Coroner McGeary has ordered a post-mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Amelia Hope, who was found dead at her home, No. 3332 Madison street, last Friday. It was reported the woman had committed suicide by taking chloroform and ether. A small bottle was found by her side which had contained these drugs, but the physicians who examined the body said there had not been enough ether or chloroform in the bottle to have caused death. The woman was found by her husband, Joseph Hope. The latter left her Thursday afternoon. The woman said she was going to her relatives in Woods Run. Hope returned home that night and found the place locked. He went to Woods Run and learned she had not gone to her relatives. Hope remained from home until Friday afternoon. He entered the house through a rear window and on reaching the bedroom found his wife dead, with a towel over her face.

James Freeman, a negro, aged 2, died yesterday afternoon in his father's arms while aboard a street car near Van Braam street. The father, Wilbert Freeman, was taking the child to his home, No. 2048 Fifth avenue, from Marshalsea, where the child had been cared for practically since his birth. The child's mother died soon after he was born, and as the father could not care for him properly, he was sent to Marshalsea. Freeman thought the child was old enough that he could care for him and went to Marshalsea yesterday to bring him home. While on the car the child gasped several times and Freeman left the car and went to a doctor's office. The child was dead when the doctor examined him and he could assign no cause of death. The child is said to have been feeble since birth.

John Fuhs, aged 10, a son of Henry Fuhs of 1519 Laurel street, Allegheny, was killed at Beaver avenue and Adams street, shortly before 5 p. m. yesterday by being run over by the trailer of a Union line car. It is alleged the boy tried to board the car while in motion and fell beneath the wheels. He died while being taken to St. Johns hospital.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sullivan, aged 70, died suddenly at her home, rear 727 Brownsville avenue, at noon yesterday. Death is thought to be due to a general breakdown owing to her advanced age.

Robert Shively, aged 16, son of John Shively of Edgeworth, was instantly killed yesterday evening at 6 o'clock near the Shields station of the Fort Wayne road by the Ambridge accommodation. Shively worked at the Riter & Conley plant at Leetsdale and was on his way home when struck.

An unknown Italian about 35 years old, died at the Homeopathic hospital at 5:30 last evening from injuries received on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad where he was struck by a train.

Mrs. Ann Burkholder, aged 45, of Port Vue, was found dead in bed yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Sherbine. It is said she was a sufferer from heart trouble.

Christopher Oesterle, aged 36, was found dead in bed at his home, 494 Sterling street, by his wife yesterday. The man died from carbolic acid poison. His wife said he had been despondent for some time on account of ill health.

Turkeys for Westinghouse Men.

The 3,800 employes of the Westinghouse Airbrake works at Wilmerding will receive Thanksgiving turkeys today. The turkeys were received at the siddings of the company, near the Wilmerding station of the Pennsylvania railroad, yesterday, and the unloading was watched by hundreds. The turkeys are large this year, none weighing less than 12 pounds and some reach 25 pounds.

The Death Roll.

Harvey Hamilton Welch, Jr.

Harvey Hamilton Welch, Jr., aged 47, a prominent resident of Wilmerding, died at an East End hospital yesterday morning of stomach trouble. After leaving the university he entered the Westinghouse Airbrake works, then located in Allegheny, and of which his father was superintendent. He learned the machinist trade and later became a draftsman. After the Westinghouse plant was moved to Wilmerding Mr. Welsh became chief draughtsman and later succeeded his father as general superintendent of the works. Two years ago he resigned to engage in the lumber business. Seventeen years ago he married Miss Ada Doyle, daughter of J. G. Doyle of Pittsburgh. He lived at 231 Margrite avenue, Wilmerding. His widow and three children survive, Misses Edna and Marion and Homer Welsh, all of Wilmerding. His mother, two brothers, George Welsh and R. E. Welsh, and a sister, Mrs. Alexander McKee, also survive. Mr. Welsh was a member of the Americus club, Shiloh lodge, F. & A. M., of Wilmerding; Shiloh chapter, Royal Arch Masons; Tancred commandery No. 48, Knights Templar; Pennsylvania consistory, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Masons; Syria temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Funeral services will be held at the home of his mother in Homewood tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Margaret Anglin.

Mrs. Margaret Anglin, aged 85, the oldest member of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Sharpsburg, is dead at her home, 35 Eighth street, Sharpsburg. Mrs. Anglin was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, and came to America in 1802, settling at Beatty station, Westmoreland county, Pa. She removed to Sharpsburg in 1854. In 1845 she was married to James Anglin, who died in 1892. Five children, Edward Anglin of Sharon, John Anglin of Allegheny, Patrick, Hannah and Ellen Anglin of Sharpsburg, survive. There are 20 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's Catholic church, Sharpsburg, at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Ann E. Culley.

Mrs. Ann E. Culley died yesterday at the home of her son, George H. Culley, in Ridge avenue, Crafton, from apoplexy, aged 69. She was born in Florence, Washington county, where she was married to Levi Culley, who died 44 years ago. For 30 years Mrs. Culley had lived with her son, George, in Pittsburgh, removing with him to Crafton two years ago. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh. Besides George, she leaves one other son, John H., of Allegheny. Funeral services will be held this evening at her late home, with interment Thursday morning at Florence.

Mrs Jane Rodgers.

Mrs. Jane Rodgers, aged 68, widow of Alderman Michael Rodgers, a former well-known resident of the Thirty-sixth ward, died yesterday of a complication of diseases at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. G. Keffner, 310 Carolina street, Oakland. Besides her daughter, she is survived by a granddaughter, Mrs. Frank M. Keifer of Lagonier, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. D. A. Fisher, and a brother, David Brown, both of Pittsburgh.

Obituary Notes.

Frazier, pastor of the Tabernacle United Presbyterian church, Youngstown, O., of which Mr. Barr was a member. The body will be brought to Allegheny this morning. Interment will be made in Uniondale cemetery, Allegheny.

PETITION NICHOLAS TO CALL STATES-GENERAL

Zemstvos in Russia Adopt Memorial Which Czar Is to Receive Today.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—The serious work of the zemstvos meeting being accomplished the only remaining questions relating to aid of the wounded and distressed, many of the members are already leaving for their homes. At the last moment the form of the memorial was altered to make it appear an expression of "the hope that it is the wish of the emperor to summon a national assembly" memorial will be presented to Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky tomorrow and by him personally will be transmitted to the emperor. There is no clue as to the outcome. The general idea in government circles and even of many of those who participated in the meeting is that it will be unfavorable, but the whole situation is so unprecedented that even the best informed hardly know what to expect.

Tonight the editors of the principal Russian papers met the presidents of the zemstvos to arrange a plan for co-operation in their work. A communication was received from the revolutionary organization promising to suspend activity pending the government's action on the memorial. Big student demonstrations which were planned for this week have been postponed on the urgent advice of the zemstvos presidents, who are anxious not to embarrass Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky.

The control which the zemstvos exercise over the disturbing elements of the body politic is one of the strongest features of their position in the great struggle.

THE ORCHESTRA'S PROGRAM.

Several Notable Compositions Are to Be Played This Week.

The Pittsburgh orchestra, Emil Paur, conductor, will resume the regular season's work in Pittsburgh with this week's Friday evening and Saturday afternoon concerts, following the return of the organization from the first tour of the season, one of eight days' duration and which has been quite successful.

This week's program includes for the second time in the history of the orchestra the great C major symphony by Schubert, and also the "Egmont" overture and the "Die Meistersinger" prelude.

Two soloists will co-operate, both for the first time in Pittsburgh—Edward Johnson, tenor, of New York, and Hermann Beyer-Hane, leading violoncellist of the orchestra. Mr. Johnson will sing three songs by Schubert, Schumann and Richard Strauss' "Cacile." Mr. Beyer-Hane's has chosen the most melodious concerto by dedwert, a noted virtuoso as well as composer, for the violoncello.

Crucible Bond Report Unfounded.

The reports from New York that the Crucible Steel Company had found it unnecessary to issue any of the authorized bonds were put to rest yesterday by President Frank B. Smith. Mr. Smith said that the matter had never been given any consideration by the company's management.

Pastor S. Edward Young, chaplain of the Actors' Church alliance, requests managers of all first-class orchestras and high-class artists whose itineraries may be near Pittsburgh Sunday, to communicate with him with reference to furnishing new attractions at the men's Sunday afternoon meeting to be held at the Bijou theater during the winter.

FOURTH AVENUE AND WOOD STREET

JUNUCH HAD SLICK TRICK, BUT IT DIDN'T WORK WELL

Thomas Junuch of No. 122 Crawford street tried a bunco game on Joseph Kerfojahn of Allegheny, and after an exciting chase was captured and locked in central police station. Kerfojahn alleges when in Liberty avenue, near Union station, Junuch suddenly stepped in front of him and apparently picked up a roll of money. Junuch suggested Kerfojahn say nothing of the find and handed him what appeared to be $100 and asked Kerfojahn to give him what change he had. The latter in his excitement handed Junuch $80 and the latter started to run. Kerfojahn realized he had been victimized and he shouted after Junuch. Detectives Kelly and Reilly captured Junuch.

233-235 FIFTH AVENUE

Millions of people use Liquozone now. Some are neighbors of yours—ask them what it does. Then ask us for a bottle free.

The people of nine nations use Liquozone now. No medicine was ever so widely employed, nor so widely prescribed by the better physicians. Nearly half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of remarkable cures that were made by it.

Millions who were sick are well today because of Liquozone. And millions who are well use it, as we do, to keep well. They use it to ward off germ attacks, and as a source of vitality. Those who don't use it simply don't know what it does. They don't know what they miss, or what they could save by it. If you are not using it, will you let us buy a 50c bottle and give it to you to try?

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals. After proving, in thousands of difficult cases, that Liquozone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquozone has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us this slip. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for it. ANDREWS FRESH FROM VICTORY

Delegate-Elect from New Mexico Expects the Territory to Secure Statehood.

HE HAD A STRENUOUS FIGHT

Senator William H. Andrews, fresh from his political victories in New Mexico, came to town yesterday and is quartered at the Hotel Schenley. He will remain in the east about two weeks.

The election of Andrews as a delegate in congress was the occasion of the most strenuous political contest in the history of New Mexico, but the former Pennsylvanian appears to have suffered none in health. He rolled up a majority of almost 6,000 in a three-cornered fight. In one county the vote was 1,800 to 6 in his favor, and in another he received almost 1,200 and his opponents 3 or 4. He found the native Mexican to be a stalwart Republican and exceedingly desirous of maintaining a protective tariff.

On the question of statehood for New Mexico, the senator is just as enthusiastic as ever. He expects to see a law enacted at the next session of congress, but does not look for the passage of any legislation at the short session. The people of New Mexico are hopeful of separate statehood and do not want to be linked with Arizona. He will go to Washington for the opening of congress, but does not expect to remain there. In the next congress he will take charge of the statehood bill in the house, but does not know who will lead the fight in the senate.

Mayor Hays now admits that one of the chief reasons for the Citizens indorsing Larkin for controller is to enable them to secure control of the election boards of the city. "The control of the election boards is the most important consideration," is the way he puts it.

The Orphans are also anxious to get control of the election officers. This party hopes to figure in the mayoralty election and believes it would help to have some of the boards. It will also make a fight for the election of school directors.

Congressman George Shiras III. has gone to Washington to prepare for the opening of congress. He spent the entire summer in the wilds of Canada photographing wild animals.

The case against Mayor Hays, who is charged with a misdemeanor by Samuel Moore, for discharging an old soldier from the public service, was not called for trial in criminal court yesterday. The attorneys on both sides were engaged in another trial. If the case is not reached today, it will probably go over until the next term.

INGERSOLL'S WORDS OF LONG AGO WERE RECALLED

Anna Eva Fay Gave Answer at Old City Hall Last Night That Was Startling.

There was another big audience at Old City hall last night to witness Anna Eva Fay's wonderful performance.

"What is Bob Ingersoll thinking about tonight?" That is the question that comes to me," said Anna Eva Fay after she had got started on the mind reading portion of her entertainment.

The big audience quieted down as the clear tones of her voice rang out. "The thought is sent to me by a Mr. T. C. Jenkins. Well, Mr. Jenkins, were every one tonight to bring a bud and place it upon Ingersoll's grave, he would sleep beneath a wilderness of flowers. In spite of fears and tears and dogmas, there is a life beyond the grave," he said, and now he knows, because Missouri has gone Republican."

This answer by the mysterious mind reader created a profound sensation, especially among those who recalled the fact that about 10 years ago Ingersoll delivered the very remark Miss Fay quoted, and added that he would believe in God when the state of Missouri went Republican.

The evening was replete with questions and answers every whit as interesting, and most of them were of a personal character, which were all the more enjoyed by the persons asking and their immediate friends.

George Marshall was told to look for a certain missing ledger of 1873 in a certain room in his house, in an unused cupboard and find it there.

William Gillespie wanted to know whether General Electric was a good investment, and was told emphatically that it was, but that some time would elapse before it reached his figure, 100. A Mr. Palmer was told that Amalgamated Copper was a good buy, but that he must be prepared to hold it for some time to come.

WILL CLERGY ACT IN GRAFT CASES?

Resident of Allegheny Suggests to Dr. Woodburn That Ministers Should Take a Hand.

PROOFS OF PUBLIC INTEREST

The interest the public is taking in the Allegheny graft investigation is manifested in the scores of letters that have been received in the past few weeks by Dr. Samuel S. Woodburn, who is one of a number of North Side citizens who gave life to the movement. Since he has made public avowal of his part in the investigation, Dr. Woodburn has daily received earnest letters from residents of Allegheny. Most of these missives express approval of the course adopted to lay bare the understanding existing between the police and the demi-monde of the city. Some contain suggestions, and a few have enclosed with them checks. The money, the contributors say, is to be added to the fund to carry on the investigation.

In a letter that reached Dr. Woodburn yesterday a suggestion is made that a mass meeting be held at which the clergy of all churches attend and give expression of their approval of the movement. The ministers, the writer declares, should take an interest in the endeavor to purify the city and should urge the church-going people to lend both moral and financial aid, if necessary, to those whose efforts have made the investigation possible.

If anything of the kind is done it will not be at the instigation of Dr. Woodburn.

"I think the clergy of our city should take an interest in this thing, for it means much for the moral welfare of the community," said Dr. Woodburn. "The ministers are an intelligent class and capable of taking any action they favor without prompting from anyone. I am glad this has been suggested, for its publication will put it up to the spiritual leaders of Allegheny. The people undoubtedly want to see this graft investigation carried out properly, and if the ministers would show an active interest, the laity would quickly follow. This is but natural, as the clergy as a class stands for our best ideals in all things. The great weight of public sentiment would be brought to the assistance of the investigation, and nothing insures success so much as this when public questions are being agitated. I hope to see the ministers take some action."

PYTHIANS ELECT OFFICERS.

Big Attendance at Balloting for Regimental and Battalion Officers of the Sixth Regiment.

Officers of the Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias from all over Southwestern Pennsylvania gathered last night in the hall in Wood street for the election of officers of the Sixth regiment.

Scott Dibert, the colonel of the regiment, had declined to stand for re-election. Lieut.-Col. Vester, Washington, Pa., was elected colonel; Past Capt. Bowman of Wilmerding, was elected lieutenant colonel; Maj. Hecker of the second battalion was re-elected and the vacant majority in the third batalion was filled by the election of D. B. White. The major of the first batalion still has one month to serve.

There was sharp competition for the positions, but the beaten candidates accepted defeat gracefully. Brig.-Gen. L. R. Thomas of Latrobe conducted the election and Adjutant Richard T. Griffith was the secretary.

The committee making preparations for the special session of the grand lodge officers on December 8 reported that the grand lodge would be suitably entertained and additional committees were appointed to make the session a success. On that occasion there will be an initiation of a big class of grand lodge members and a banquet will be served.

PERIL IN THE HAND-SHAKE.

Not long ago Dr. J. N. Hirsch, of Chicago, said: "The most delicate perfume upon the hands is not a sign of freedom from germs, and the most refined are not free from disease of lungs or throat, and the germs are rapidly spread by touching the hand that has handled the handkerchief of one afflicted with a cold, catarrh or consumption. The breath one inhales from the lungs of another may contain germs of disease." You will not only be able to resist the germs of consumption, but many thousands of cases have been known where persons who were suffering from incipient phthisis, or the early stages of consumption were absolutely cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains a person's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and thus the person is saved from those symptoms of fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common.

An alterative extract like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, will assist the stomach in assimilating or taking up from the food such elements as are required for the blood, will assist the liver in throwing off the poisons in the system.

Do not permit some designing druggist to insult your intelligence by offering you a remedy which he claims is "just as good"—because he made it up himself, or ten chances to one you will get a medicine made up largely of alcohol, which will only weaken the system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is heartly recommended by every person who has ever used it and it has stood the test of thirty-eight years of approval from people all over the United States.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

STRAIN TOO GREAT

Watch for Symptoms of Kidney Diseases. Regard Backache as a Danger Signal. Test the Urine. Help the Kidneys Do Their Work. Cure Them When They Are Sick.

HOW TO TELL—There are many symptoms to tell you of sick kidneys. First, the many aches or pains—
Dull aching in the small of the back.
Sharp pains when stooping or lifting.
Rhumatic aching in the muscles.
Neuralgic pains in the nerves.
Headaches, sideaches, gout, sciatica.
And the urinary symptoms, some apparent, some found by simple tests—
Frequent passages day and night.
Scalding, due to inflammation.
Scanty passages, or a stoppage.
Red, thick and ill-smelling urine.
Cloudy or brick-dust sediment.
Greasy, frothy, or staining urine.
Other common symptoms are:
Puffy eyes; swollen limbs.
Pallid, waxy complexion.
Drowsiness, lack of energy, languor.
Dizziness, "spots" before the eyes.
Weak heart; debility, indigestion.
There is only one thing to do when any of these symptoms appear, and that is to cure the kidneys. No need to experiment. Doan's Kidney Pills have cured hundreds of people in your own city. Their testimony proves it.

The strain and struggle of busy life causes nine-tenths of the daily aches and pains and kidney sufferings of humanity.

The busy folks—who work hard and rest little, who think hard and sleep little, are those who overtax the kidneys most.

To overwork the kidneys is to congest and clog them—to disturb and hinder them in their great work of filtering the blood.

Busy men and women are too apt to neglect sick kidneys. In spite of aches and pains and urinary disorders they go on overworking until the kidneys give out.

There is no middle road for the kidney sufferer. He must either help and cure the kidneys, or go the downward course towards fatal diabetes and Bright's disease. There is no standing still.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. This great kidney specific has restored thousands of kidney sufferers to complete and permanent health. It is intended for the kidneys and for the kidneys only.

PITTSBURGH PROOF:

Robert W. Curry, roller contractor at the Black Diamond steel works, living at 6450 Aurelia street, says: "I have been recommending Doan's Kidney Pills through the mill for 10 years, as I believe this remedy is the finest thing in the world in the medical line. Twelve years ago I began to suffer from pains in the back and other symptoms of kidney trouble. My back troubled me so I could hardly get up or down, and felt worse in the morning than at night. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and the cure has been so thorough and lasting that I have passed examinations for insurance twice since that time so I must be all right physically. It was through others that I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, and now I will recommend them to anybody, as I have told you."

TEACHERS WIN IN ALLEGHENY

Official Recommendation That They Get $10 More a Month Each.

PROSPECTS IN PITTSBURGH

Organized pedagogism has won a decisive victory in Allegheny. Last night the committee on teachers and salaries of the board of school controllers favorably recommended an increase of $10 a month in the salaries of all the teachers of the ward schools, the teachers of domestic science and those of the manual training schools.

The application of the teachers for an increase of salaries was accompanied by a petition signed by over 5,000 property holders. The schedule asked for by the teachers, if granted, would increase the aggregate of the teachers' salaries about $100,000. The increase recommended means an addition of $40,000 a year, an increase in the school taxes of about half a mill.

The principals submitted a schedule of salaries as follows: Twenty or more rooms, $2,500 now $2,000; 15 to 19 rooms, $2,300 now $1,800; 10 to 14 rooms, $1,900 now $1,600; 5 to 9 rooms, $1,700 now $1,500. The committee recommended an increase of $10 a month to each of the principals. It also recommended that the salary of Superintendent C. B. Connelley of the manual training schools be increased from $2,000 to $2,100 a year and that he be allowed his salary while ill. The assistants in the department of domestic science are allowed $75 a month.

The salaries of the teachers in the High school and of music, drawing and physical culture are to remain the same as now paid.

What the Pittsburgh Teachers' association wants in the way of increased salaries and what it would cost the city of Pittsburgh is shown in a report sent to all the members of the Central board of education yesterday. At the last meeting of the board Secretary Charles Reisfar, Jr., was instructed to prepare a report showing the present schedule of teachers' salaries, the payroll for September under the proposed schedule of the Teachers' association and the actual payroll for September under the existing schedule. The September payroll amounted to $79,045. The lowest salary paid a teacher was $45, and only 11 received that amount. The highest was $75, and 556 of the 878 grade teachers received this sum. Under the Teachers' association schedule the lowest salary would be $85, which would be paid to 11 teachers. The highest, $120, would be drawn by 30 teachers, while 410 would get $100 a month. This last schedule does not affect the principals' pay, but it makes an increase in that of the assistant principles and 81 grade teachers. The total under the new schedule is $101,315 a month. This is an increase of $22,270 a month or $222,700 a year. The report shows that the teachers' schedule would mean an increased taxation of a little over three-fifths of a mill.

Total teachers' schedule, $101,315.
Total present schedule, $79,045.
Excess of teachers' schedule over present schedule, $22,270, or $222,700 for school year.

A city tax of one mill realizes $393,459.

CONDEMNS FACTIONS.

Lorin Deland Says Harvard Must Have System Among Coaches.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Lorin Deland, probably one of the greatest football tacticians Harvard has ever had, made some startling statements today in an interview concerning the reasons for Harvard's failure upon the gridiron this fall.

"I am inclined to think," said Deland, "that there is more or less truth in the rumors that certain factions really wished to see Harvard lose this year. Perhaps they supposed that by a Yale victory they themselves would later come into power. There are too many factions represented on the field, the pulling this and that way is not a good thing for the university, and least of all for the team. There must be a system among the coaches, a system of discipline and direction in coaching matters."

M'DONALD STILL BUYING.

Pittsburgher Purchases Two More Steppers at the Sale.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Foreign buyers took the pick of the trotters offered today at the Fasig-Tipton sale in Madison Square Garden. Acting for Prince Smith of Berlin, E. L. Featherstone paid $4,450 for the bay stallion Idolita, 2:09¼. Brook Surry, representing another European turfman, paid $4,000 for the two-year-old trotting filly Rosabel, 2:24¼. These were the highest prices of the day. Among the day's sales was: Bertha Bond, b. f., 4, by The Bondsman-Bessie Egbert, by Actuary, $400, and Del Sable, 2:24¼, blk. g., 5, by Delmarch-Sabledale, by Sable Wilkes, David S. McDonald, Pittsburgh, $725.

Witnesses in Smoot Case.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The Hon. R. W. Taylor has submitted a list of 50 names of witnesses for the rehearing of the Reed Smoot case before the United States senate. The list was sent to Senator J. C. Burrows, chairman of the senate committee on privileges. Mr. Taylor, who is conducting the case against Smoot, said he thought it would be wise for a sub-committee to go to Utah and take evidence in the case. If the sub-committee is appointed to go to Utah before January 1 he will accompany the committee.

Inspecting Proposed Trolley Route.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Arthur Filan of Pittsburgh, representing his father, ex-Senator William Flinn, and A. D. Needl of the same city, engineer for the Flinn interests, came to Washington today to inspect the proposed route of the trolley line from here to Pittsburgh. They drove over the surveyed line from Library, in Allegheny county, where the new road will connect with the Pittsburgh & Charleroi line, to Washington, securing data and taking measurements. Contracts will be let next week.

Admits Murder; Sentenced to Prison.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—After the commonwealth had produced evidence that Thomas Stack fired the shot which caused the death of James Rishin on August 7, on the Coal Hollow bridge, near Irwin, counsel for the defense entered a plea of murder in the second degree and the plea was accepted by District Attorney Jesse E. B. Cunningham. Stack was sentenced to seven and one half years in the Western penitentiary.

Sisters to Rest in the Same Grave.

In one grave, side by side, the bodies of the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiehagen of Franklin street, North Braddock, will be buried tomorrow in the Monongahela cemetery. The two little daughters, Bernadie, aged 5, and Gertrude, aged 3, died within a few hours of each other yesterday morning. Both children had been suffering for several days from measles and contracted croup.

Needed Repairs Will Cause a Shutdown.

The Edgar Thomson plant at Braddock is expected to shut down today for a short period, in order to make much needed repairs to the large engines in the rail mill. The works are rushed with orders for steel rails and it was expected to keep them running full until Christmas, but it is said the bearings on a number of the large engines have become worn.

THROUGH BARGES TO THE PACIFIC

Robert B. Armstrong, Assistant Secretary of Treasury, Talks on Pittsburgh's Future.

PANAMA CANAL MEANS MUCH

Steel barges to carry Pittsburgh iron and coal direct from the mills and mines in this district down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, across the Carribean and through the Panama canal to distant Pacific ports, was the alluring prospect held out by Robert B. Armstrong, assistant secretary of the United States treasury, in an address last evening, delivered before the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks, at Carnegie music hall. There were about 500 persons present and the thoughtful speech awoke much interest. On behalf of the chapter Mr. Armstrong was formally welcomed to the meeting by Archibald G. Boal, cashier of the First National bank of West Elizabeth. Robert Wardrop, president of the Peoples National bank of Pittsburgh, also spoke briefly in introducing Mr. Armstrong to the audience.

In his address, which dealt mainly with the Panama canal and its relation to Pittsburgh, Mr. Armstrong said in part:

> At a cost of millions upon millions of dollars, and by the expenditure of infinite skill, the United States is now engaged in pushing the ocean up to Pittsburgh. The producers in Pittsburgh know how to use railroads, but have had very little experience in the use of boats. The government believes that your education has been sadly neglected, and is determined to instil into your minds a knowledge of things nautical and an appreciation of low freight rates by water.
>
> Statistics tell us that Pittsburgh is more familiar with the freight car than any other city in the world, that it ships more freight in these ignoble vehicles than New York and Chicago combined. Yes, a freight car has its limitations, and when it comes to shipping bulky freight like coal, steel, armor plate, sheet iron, angle iron, tools, machinery, structural steel, we need something larger. One of the indirect results of the Panama canal will be to have Pittsburgh connected with deep sea water by fleets of river barges to be measured only by the traffic that is in sight.
>
> Pittsburgh has $200,000,000 invested in manufacturing plants, the annual output of which exceeds the total capital stock by $25,000,000. Your suburban cities, commercially merged with the great city, have $175,000,000 more invested in the large and important industries whose success have made Pittsburgh famous. Therefore, why should not you gentlemen who finance these enterprises, whose operations are dependent largely upon their success or failure of their plans and growth, take deep interest in an extension or development of cheap transportation to new and greater markets? Can anyone tell me how much Pittsburgh ships to the west coast of South America today? Can anyone tell me how much Mexican trade has been captured by Pittsburgh? Can anyone tell me how many monuments to Pittsburgh enterprise have been erected in Central America? Some, I have no doubt, but it has been pioneering, with odds greatly against the Pittsburgh product and in favor of foreign competing products.
>
> It is true that you now have some ships—small and of lines unbeautiful, yet they are like the ships that pass in the night, for they go and never return. If you send a cargo of coal to New Orleans, the planks on which it rides to the sea are disintegrated into lumber. Experts in transportation tell us that a steel barge so constructed that it can be loaded at Pittsburgh, with possibly an addition to its cargo on the Mississippi, can profitably be towed through the placid waters of the canal and the western Pacific.
>
> Members of the Panama canal commission believe that it will be entirely feasible for barges laden in Pittsburgh to deliver their cargoes at points anywhere within a thousand miles of the Pacific entrance to the canal without breaking bulk. Does not that seem an ocean boulevard right up to Pittsburgh? It is worth while thinking about and developing. If barges from Pittsburgh can do this, and it is said to be the practical plan of experienced Ohio and Mississippi river boatmen, then Pennsylvania coal can be delivered at the coaling stations of the western Pacific and the Carribbean at a price which will hold the market against all other competition. And not only this, but it will be a magnet of cheap fuel to draw to our canal the steel steamships of commerce which now ply through the Suez canal. Congress is smoothing Pittsburgh's path to the ocean. It has spent millions of dollars in deepening the river channel between Pittsburgh and Cairo, and the work is constantly going on to preserve and enlarge that channel.
>
> Even the construction of this great trans-isthmian ditch has benefited Pittsburgh, and it is but a sample of what is to come when digging that ditch in real earnest begins. Then there will be a perfect epidemic of orders for American machinery, construction material, fuel and supplies. Pittsburgh is now building 200 flat cars, costing $1,000 each, and thousands of dollars' worth of iron piping for the canal. You will probably send some cement, also. This highly profitable commercial industry is not unmixed with sentiment, for this enterprise is really to unite the east, the west and establish American commercial enterprises on a foundation as solid as concrete.

The musical features of the evening were varied. The meeting was opened with a trio, Howard McAteer playing the cello; Miss Catherine Lackey, the piano, and E. Garrick O'Bryan, the violin. William Thaw sang the baritone solo, "Sunset," and the evening ended with the bass solo, "Gipsy Jan," sung by L. E. Huseman. Chairman John S. Swartz presided at the meeting.

SOLES CASE AGAIN HEARD OF.

Alleged Defeat in Land Title Holding Back Thousands of Dollars.

The Soles rebate case which for almost a year kept the McKeesport councils in a turmoil and finally resulted in a law suit against the city, in which the taxpayers were defeated, gives promise of another disturbance.

Efforts are being made by the Catherine Soles heirs to dispose of a large tract of land in Fifth avenue to a real estate company and they were successful in having over $4,000 of a $13,000 tax lien against it cancelled by councils. Another cloud on the title has appeared, however, in the shape of a recorded option on the property granted by the heirs to W. C. Soles of McKeesport. Suit in equity was entered yesterday by the attorney for the Soles heirs against W. C. Soles, to have the court record removed.

Mr. Soles is said to have secured the option on the property, from the heirs, July 17, 1902, which was later extended to December 31 of the same year. Mr. Soles has the option made a part of the court records in January, 1903. The alleged defect in the title is holding up many thousands of dollars, part of the purchase price, which the heirs are anxious to secure.

SIBLEY ASKS TAXPAYERS TO PROBE GRAFT STORY

Offers to Contribute to Fund to Investigate Alleged Official Corruption in Venango.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 22.—In a letter issued to the public today Congressmen Joseph Sibley calls upon the taxpayers of Venango county to join with him in investigating the charges that corruption in the office of the Venango county commissioners has robbed them of $100,000. He offers to contribute $1,000 toward employing attorneys to ferret out the alleged corruption. Mr. Sibley recites the charges that contracts for bridges have been given at costs far in excess of their value; that false plans have been substituted for genuine plans; that bona fide bidders have bid upon expensive machinery, while those in the ring have substituted cheap work; that after the bids have been asked for and received, the successful bidders who were connected with the ring were permitted to build light foundations and light superstructures, the difference of cost being divided among the spoilsmen.

Mr. Sibley refers to the allegation that the names of the plunderers are known to the present board of county commissioners and he calls upon John Irwin, one of the two Republican members, who is said to be in possession of facts that would incriminate others, to make such facts known to the district attorney.

ROBS POOR PEOPLE OF THANKSGIVING DINNER

If there is a cheaper thief than one working at present in Allegheny he has not been heard of. To rob the poor of Thanksgiving dinners by stealing the Salvation Army boxes is his specialty. The boxes have been placed in all saloons and it is such places that this thief has been working. He was seen last night in Sauers tavern, in Federal street, layiing his overcoat on top of the box, and in nicking up the coat took with it the collection box. The police are looking for him.

Masonic Temple for McKeesport.

The Masonic Temple association of McKeesport, formed for the purpose of erecting a handsome new temple in Walnut street, that city, has approved plans for a $75,000 building which will be started next spring. William R. Peters, William Nagel, E. W. Pitts, Charles T. Tawney, R. E. Stone, Jacob Bestwick, R. C. Painter, D. L. Clark, T. D. Gardner, George W. Hartman, T. C. Jones, M. Wilson Stewart, Robert J. Caughey, A. N. Lawson and D. S. Tobin have been elected directors for the ensuing year. The new building is to be of brick, with stone trimmings, and will be five stories high.

Discussed Uses of Concrete.

The structural section of the Engineers' society of Western Pennsylvania met yesterday at 410 Penn avenue. "Reinforced Concrete" was the subject under discussion, and in view of the growing use of concrete in steel structures and in lieu of masonry, much interest was manifested. R. A. Cummings led off with a paper on the subject and a general discussion followed.

Gave Up Cuticle for Sister.

A patch of skin four inches square was taken yesterday from Charles McAtee of McKeesport, at the McKeesport hospital, and grafted to the neck of his sister, Sadie, 16 years old, who had been terribly burned.

LEWIS T. BROWN HAS RESIGNED

Well Known Superintendent of City Mills of Carnegie Steel Company to Leave.

H. J. SCHOTTER TO SUCCEED

The fact that Lewis T. Brown, well known in Pittsburgh and elsewhere as a steel manufacturer and as a prominent National Guardsman, had tendered his resignation as superintendent of the city mills of the Carnegie Steel Company, became known generally yesterday and was the cause of much interest. Few men in the steel business in Pittsburgh are more widely acquainted than "Capt." Brown, and the fact that he is leaving the business now caused considerable regret. The reason for his resignation could not be learned last evening.

His position will be taken by Harry J. Schotter, superintendent of plate mills at the Homestead works of the Carnegie Steel Company. W. H. Archer, formerly superintendent of the 48-inch mill at Homestead, will succeed Mr. Schotter.

Mr. Archer had been slated to take the superintendency of the skelp mills of the National Tube Company at Lorain, but the impending resignation of "Capt." Brown caused a change in this plan. The Lorain position will be taken by Supt. Shattuck of the Lackawanna Steel Company, who was formerly connected with the Homestead works, as well as the old steel works at Lorain.

"Capt." Brown is one of the veteran Carnegie partners. He has been for many years a warm personal friend of Mr. Carnegie and has been at the head of the Upper Union works and Lower Union works since early in the Carnegie regime. His rank as one of the ablest steel works managers in the business has been undisputed for years, his success being due equally to a knowledge of the manufacture of steel and to ability to handle his men in such a way that they were loyal to him in all emergencies. He was one of the "partners" that came in for the large apportionments of stock made by Mr. Carnegie among his most trusted officials.

Harry J. Schotter has been connected with the Homestead steel works for several years. He is one of the "junior partners," receiving stock under one of the later divisions. His record has been thoroughly successful as the head of the seven plate mills, the largest department of the works.

Mr. Archer, who succeeds Mr. Schotter at Homestead, has had charge of the 48-inch mill, and, like Mr. Schotter, is one of the "junior partners." His success in the present position caused his choice to take charge of the Lorain skelp department, but the present change came before he could make the removal to Lorain.

THOMAS W. LAWSON SUED BY NEW YORK ATTORNEY

Boston Man Promises to Make the Big Financiers Squirm If They Sue Him.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Suit has been brought by Paul Fuller of this city against Thomas W. Lawson of Boston for $350,000. Lorenzo Semple of the law firm of Coudert Bros. said that Mr. Fuller was a member of the firm, and that the suit was over a private transaction.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Thomas W. Lawson said tonight: "In regard to the suits and rumors of suits, civil and criminal, brought against me by 'Standard Oil,' the insurance companies and individuals because of my story 'Frenzied Finance,' I can simply say: 'My truths are big ones,' and I suppose the price I must pay for telling them will be equally big, but I'll make those who have been plundering the people during the past 10 years pay a price to which mine will appear like a tight shoe compared with the inquisitorial racks of the dark ages.'"

PASSED AWAY IN HIS SLEEP.

An Old-Time Fireman Meets Death While Sitting in a Chair.

James L. Morris, aged 59, passed quietly away in his sleep, while sitting in a chair in Gotlieib Blotter's saloon, at 6319 Frankstown avenue, yesterday afternoon. He was an old-time fireman and for many years was connected with No. 8 engine company, in Highland avenue, East End.

He went to Blotter's place about 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon and sat down in a chair and fell asleep. At noon the bartender awoke him and he moved to another table and resumed his sleep. About 5 o'clock the bartender again attempted to awaken him and found him dead. Dr. Stewart was called and said death was due to heart disease. Morris lived in Mucklerat, east of Wilkinsburg. He leaves two sons and three daughters, who live in Homewood, and a son in Allegheny.

Presented His Father's Portrait.

A life-sized portrait of Gen. Alexander Hays was last night presented to the Hays commandery, Knights of the Golden Eagle, by Gilbert Hays, a son of the general. The presentation was made in the commandery hall, Federal street, Allegheny, before a large gathering. The presentation address was made by the Rev. N. L. Brown and the gift received by Capt. Harry Franz of the commandery. An exhibition drill and musical program was given in conclusion.

Want Bulk Law Passed.

A conference of the legislative committee of the Credit Men's association of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh will be held today at Philadelphia. The local members, consisting of W. A. Given, D. C. Shaw, F. H. Jones and W. L. Danahey, left last night to attend the meeting. The committee intends planning an active campaign in the interest of the bulk law bill, which is to be acted upon by the next legislature.

Nothing on Which to Hold Mason.

John Mason, of McKeesport, was yesterday freed from suspicion of being implicated in a robbery in Pittsburgh last Sunday night. When Mason was arrested last Monday in McKeesport, he had in his possession a gold watch valued at about $100, some other articles of jewelry and about $50 in cash. He did not explain satisfactorily how he got them, but they were returned to him by the police when he was dismissed.

SYRIANS SOUGHT WEALTH IN CENTRAL AMERICA

Now They Want to Return to DuBois—Deporting Undesirable Immigrants.

Two Syrians who, with their families, left New York October 5 for Central America, believing that immense wealth awaited peddlers, now want to return to Pennsylvania. They are now being detained at New Orleans. They say they formerly lived near Du Bois, and Immigrant Inspector R. D. Layton will go there today to investigate.

Inspector Layton is kept busy deporting foreigners who have become charges upon the public.

Guiseppe Regalbuto will be returned to Naples, Italy. He arrived in the United States November 11, 1903. He is ill with tuberculosis and has been at Marshalsea for several weeks. Harlo Sansalvator, who reached this country in May, 1904, will also be sent back to Naples. He is at Marshalsea, ill with tuberculosis, is 49 years old, married and has a family in Italy.

Steve Stanich, aged 27, single, and suffering from chronic rheumatism will be returned to Austria. Stanich arrived in the United States seven months ago.

James Cassidy and wife Mary, with their 11-months-old child go back to England within the next two weeks. They will sail from Philadelphia. Cassidy, who is a coal miner, is afflicted with a complaint affecting his eyes. He is unable to work.

Andrew Bourlas came to this country in May of this year. He was taken in charge by the department of charities last month. He is violently insane and is kept in a straight jacket continuously. He is a native of Athens, Greece. The time of his departure has not been definitely set because of his violent condition. The department understands that Bourlas has been insane for several years.

McKeesport Teachers' Institute.

Increased attendance marked the McKeesport school teachers' institute yesterday. It was announced that the pay allowed for institute meetings would be deducted for every session missed, and the effect was noticeable. The musical features are proving popular. Prof. H. S. Albro spoke on "Attention." Dr. M. V. O'Shea lectured on "Education for Life." Prof. T. M. Balliet spoke twice during the afternoon. The lecture by Strickland W. Gilliland of Baltimore, last night on "Sunshine and Awkwardness," attracted a large audience.

Enlargements for Braddock Library.

Prof. George H. Lamb, chief librarian of the Carnegie free library of Braddock, will leave for New York Friday evening to confer with Andrew Carnegie, at the latter's request, in regard to the combination library and club house at Braddock. It is understood that a plan to extend the second and third stories of the library and club house respectively, entirely across Maple alley, provided consent is obtained from the council, is contemplated.

KAUFMANN'S "THE BIG STORE"

Store Closed Thursday (Thanksgiving)

The best selection of men's clothing

NOT only the best—but also the biggest by far, which of course means that if you haven't as yet bought your Thanksgiving suit or overcoat you can do so here today without the slightest thought of disappointment. No matter what the clothing need, be it for Prince Albert or Cutaway coat, for full dress, tuxedo or sack suit, for topcoat or surtout or even a pair of trousers, it can be best supplied here—best from the standpoint of both tailoring and value-getting satisfaction.

At 8.50

Surprising how good a suit or overcoat you can get here for $8.50. And the better judge you are of clothing, the greater will be the surprise. Every garment is made of fine wool cassimeres, cheviots and worsteds—the overcoats of coverts, cheviots and other popular overcoatings. In the matter of style and fit, these garments are quite the equal of those selling for double. About 30 styles in suits; and about 20 in overcoats in the range of selection at your command. The best you'll find elsewhere at $12 and $13.50 will not better these $8.50 suits and overcoats of ours.

Specials in men's trousers

Men's regular $3.00 trousers—made of all wool cassimeres, cheviots and worsteds, in stripes, checks and plain blue and black—special today at..1.98

Men's regular $4 and $4.50 trousers—very latest styles, made of fine all wool worsteds, in stripes and checks, special today at. 3.00

At 15.00

He who cannot find satisfaction from our line of $15 suits and overcoats must indeed be hard to please, as it comprehends every fashion and pattern in the category of style. In sack suits alone there are about 50 patterns, and in overcoats there are about 33 distinct kinds. The tailoring, fit and finish of these garments are beyond criticism. Men accustomed to merchant tailoring are the greatest enthusiasts of the Kaufmann $15.00 clothing, as it incorporates the clever and natty ideas that give to the true custom tailor's product a tone of character and individuality. $20 and $22 elsewhere gets you no better clothing.

Our finest grades from $20.00 to $35.00

Our clothing at these prices is on a par with the finest custom made. The materials are fine imported woolens; the styles are draughted by skilled artisans, and the tailoring is done by the most competent journeymen tailors—and yet you pay only half what you'd have to if you left your measure with a tailor. Concerning the matter to fit, it would be impossible for a custom tailor to better the fit of the Kaufmann garments. The most hypercritical men may have their exacting requirements relative to clothing met in our finest grades.

THE HOCKEY SEASON GETS A GOOD START

SCHOOL LEAGUE HAS FINE START

Shadyside Noses Out the High School Seven in a Fast and Interesting Contest.

LOSERS SHOW MUCH SPEED

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

Shadyside	1	0	1000
Pittsburgh H. S.	0	1	.000
East Liberty Academy	0	0	.000
Allegheny Prep.	0	0	.000
Wilkinsburg H. S.	0	0	.000

NEXT GAME.

East Liberty and Allegheny Prep., Friday night.

The Interscholastic Hockey league opened its season for this year last night at Duquesne Garden. The champion Shadyside seven, although outplayed the greater part of the game, came with a rush near the close and nosed out Pittsburgh High school, 4 to 2.

In the language of the professional showman it was a "bigger, grander and better opening."

The speed the teams showed was remarkable, considering the fact that it was the first game of the season and the second time the players were on the ice together. High school, under the captaincy of Charles Reisfar, displayed speed that was unexpected, and in skating it outshone the champions. Reisfar, himself small, has a bunch of young but speedy skaters, and they will win more than one game this season.

Capt. Arch Williams and Jim McCutcheon did not play with Shadyside. Williams has tonsilitis and McCutcheon has not recovered from the High school football game of last Saturday.

The teams played two 15-minute halves, and not once was there time taken out and not one player was sent to the bench for infractions of the rules. Referee Charlie Ahl was late in reporting, and Joe Bryan of last year's East Liberty academy seven officiated.

Reisfar Scores First.

High school jumped into the game at the start and had the puck at the Shadyside net. McCracken was kept busy warding off shots delivered by Reisfar, Bright and Van Gorder.

The first long run was made by W. Johns, who brought the puck down the field, but Van Gorder missed the goal. Babst, who was captain of the Shadyside team last night, took it up the ice to High school's net, but Van Gorder and Robinson brought it down amid cheers from the High school rooters.

Uptegraf warded off Robinson's shot, the puck going behind the net. Van Gorder passed it out to Reisfar, who drove it into the cage. Shortly before the close of the half Harry Patterson dribbled the rubber through the High school defense and shot goal. McCracken made a pretty stop on a shot from Reisfar just as the whistle blew.

Early in the second half Van Gorder shot the puck past McCracken like a flash from a scrimmage and it looked as though High school was going to win. Babst broke through the defense, but Reisfar took the puck from him, and in midfield Dick Mueller got it and dashed down the ice.

Mueller shot while going at top speed into the cage for the tieing goal. Again Mueller came tearing down the ice, but Reed stopped the shot. Mueller closed in on him and Babst shot the rubber into the net for goal.

Herron Finishes Scoring.

Herron closed the scoring with a shot from the side of the rink into the net.

The Garden patrons were pleased with the showing of the teams last night, and predict another successful season. The lineup:

Shadyside—4.		High School—2.
McCracken	Goal	Reed
McCoy	Point	Dowling
Uptegraf	Cover point	Johns
Mueller	Forward	Van Gorder
Patterson	Center	Reisfar
Babst	Right wing	Robinson
Herron	Left wing	Bright

Goals—Patterson, Mueller, Babst, Herron, Reisfar, Van Gorder. Referee—Bryan.

DUFFY'S LONG RUN FOR A TOUCHDOWN IS FEATURE

The Pittsburgh college sophomores defeated the Homewood Medicals on the college campus yesterday afternoon 24 to 0. The features were the 95-yard run of Duffy for a touchdown, and the tackling of Corrigan. GILES WON THE CUP.

The Dilworth Trophy Contest Was Long Drawn Out on the Pittsburgh Golf Links.

Announcement was made yesterday of the results in the play at the Pittsburgh Golf club for the cup offered by Lawrence Dilworth. The cup was won by E. E. Giles. Play was begun September 12 and concluded November 15, with 45 entries. There were 12 rounds of 18 holes at medal, under handicaps, each contestant playing on convenient days. After the completion of seven rounds as a basis of handicap three-quarters of the difference between the bogey of the course, 73, and the best average net score of the contestant for the seven rounds became the player's handicap, which not only applied to the remaining five rounds, but also to the seven rounds already played.

With this method of handicapping Mr. Giles' average net score for the 12 rounds was 75 1-12. The other average net scores were as follows: T. M. Marshall, Jr., 75 8-21; M. A. Preston, 75 79-100; R. V. Messler, 76 3-5; R. Blair, 77 5-12; W. Frew, 78½; Maj. G. M. Laughlin, 78⅝; J. R. Speer, 79 9-10; W. H. Lea, 79 5-6.

ROUSING SENDOFF.

Team Which Is to Meet Quakers Is Escorted to Depot by Students.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Headed by a brass band and each carrying a red torchlight, 1,500 Cornell students marched to the railway station tonight as an escort to their football team, which left for Philadelphia to play Pennsylvania on Thanksgiving day. A greater sendoff a Cornell football team never got. It cannot be said that Cornell expects her eleven to win against the Quakers, but everyone seems certain that they are going to score at least.

"Point" Team Easy Winner.

The D. L. and G. A. Reserves defeated the Ramblers of the Raleigh league last evening at Duquesne hall, 32 to 6. The team work of the Point boys was the only feature. Line-up:

D. L. & G. A. Res.—32.		Ramblers—6.
Anderson	Forward	Watson
Bodkin	Forward	Young
Flaherty	Center	Gettins
Earle	Guard	Stehle
Conley	Guard	Thompson

Field goals—Anderson, Bodkin 7, Flaherty 4, Conley 4, Watson, Young 2.

Cadets Have Hard Practice.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—After falling at goal from field early in the scrimmage, the first team, by the hardest kind of work, was barely able to score a single touchdown in today's practice. On the defense the varsity showed up well and the second team rarely made a first down. Getting the ball on the scrub five-yard line it took the varsity the full number of downs to place it over for their only score.

Brush Is Elected Captain.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Washington High school football team today Berlin Brush was made captain for next year. Brush played tackle this year. The athletic committee elected Charles Ward manager for next year.

W. U. P. HOLDS ITS FINAL PRACTICE

State Will Arrive Tonight and Means to Rest Until the Game Starts.

GANS PLANS BIG PARADE

The W. U. P. eleven had its last brisk practice of the year yesterday afternoon. The work consisted of running through the signals and playing association football. All the regular players were in the lineup and all will start in the game tomorrow against State.

W. U. P. expects to win despite the fact that State is the favorite in the betting among knowing folks. Coach Mosse will give the players a rest today, signal practice being the only work.

The State team, the cadets' band and the students will arrive at 6:55 tonight. A special train will carry the party to Tyrone. Arrangements have been made to allow the members of the party to return on any regular train.

There will not be anything in the way of entertainment provided for the team tonight. Coach Golden made the request that all social features be held off until after the game.

State men seem confident that their team will win, but they argue that W. U. P. should expect to lose because this is practically its first year in the college game.

W. U. P. is planning to hold the famous cadet band even. In the other games this year it has been the practice to have the various departments take turns in engaging the band for the championship event. Tomorrow all departments will combine and engage the largest band that has played for W. U. P. this year.

Manager Gans yesterday completed arrangements for the players' parade to precede the game. The parade will form at the Union depot at 1:15, headed by the Sixteenth Regiment band. Following will march Chief Rooter Thompson of the medical department, with 300 sawbones in line; Chief Rooter Ashcrom of the dental department, with 200; Chief Rooter McKee of the collegiate department, with 150; Chief Rooter Cunningham of the pharmacy department, with 175.

Wash.-Jeff.'s Final Practice.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—What may be termed the final practice of the W. and J. team was held here this afternoon. There was no scrub on the field, they having broken training last night. The work consisted of the team running with the ball toward a waiting tackler. The practice almost resulted in the serious crippling of one of the best players on the team. As Hupp was running he was tackled and fell heavily on his shoulder. He was rendered unconscious and it was feared he would be put out for the season, but two physicians brought him around. Hupp is bruised but will play against Dickinson on Thursday.

McChesney Makes Denial.

Harry McChesney yesterday emphatically stated that he will not play on the East End Lyceum team tomorrow against the Pittsburgh Lyceum in the game at Friendship park. McChesney said he was through with football, as he did not want to take a chance of hurting himself in any way, as he wants to be in good form when he reports to the Chicago National club next spring.

East End Lyceum will have a strong team on the field and a battle with its rivals from the Pittsburgh Lyceum will be worth going to see. Both teams are in good shape.

Fosters Wallop Friendship.

The Friendship five lost on the Foster's floor, 39 to 5. Line-up:

THE DIXIE STAKES WERE WON BY THE SOUTHERNER

Was Three-Horse Event and Proved Fast Race—Massa, a 20-to-1 Shot, Was a Winner.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 22.—The Dixie stakes were won by The Southerner with Odom up at the Bennings track today, in time that almost equalled the track record of 2:00 2-5. It was a three-horse event, in which one of them, Andrew Mack, never once seriously figured.

Massa, at one time 40 to 1, and whose odds at the close were 20 to 1, was the surprise of the day, winning easily from the favorite. The Junior steeplechase was a contest most of the way between Vestment, the heavily-played favorite, and Sunshine After Rain, the field trailing. Sunshine After Rain won by three-quarters of a length in a driving finish. Two favorites were among the winners. There was a light rain, the crowd fair and the track slow. Summaries:

First race, 2-year-olds and upward, non-winners in 1904, 6½ furlongs—Columbia course—Shady Lad, 99, Crimmins, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Arsenal, 112, Romanelli, 3 to 1 and even, second; Alforten, 107, O'Brien, 2½ to 1 and even, third. Time, 1:22 4-5.

Second race, selling, maiden 2-year-olds that have started, 5 furlongs, Columbia course—Massa, 106, Sperling, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, won; Critical, 109, Redfern, even and 1 to 2, second; Little Buttercup, 104, Crimmins, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:02 2-5.

Third race, first running of the junior steeplechase, for 3-year-olds, about 2 miles—Sunshine After Rain, 134, O'Donnell, 5 to 1 and 4 to 5, won; Vestment, 144, Veitch, 1 to 2 and 1 to 4, second; Knight of Elway, 134, Jackson, 25 to 1 and 8 to 1, third. Time, 4:04.

Fourth race, third running of the Dixie, for 3-year-olds, foals of 1901, 1⅛ miles—The Southerner, 116, Odom, 3 to 5 and out, won; Ostrich, 123, Shaw, 7 to 5 and out, second; Andrew Mack, 116, Romanelli, 10 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:56 3-5.

Fifth race, selling, for maidens, 4-year-olds and upwards, 1 mile, Columbia course—Wrist-some, 93, Dillon, 3½ to 1 and 6 to 5, won; Von Rosen, 93, J. J. Walsh, 2½ to 1 and even, second; Tom Lawson, 98, J. Taylor, 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:43 1-5.

Sixth race, maiden 2-year-olds and upward, mile and 70 yards, old course—Panque, 107, Shaw, 8 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; River Foot, 110, Redfern, 7 to 2 and 6 to 5, second; Lord Aintree, 90, J. Henderson, 50 to 1 and 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:45 2-5.

FAVORITES IN FRONT.

Books Had Two Races to Get Even for Losses.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Nov. 22.—Four of the races at Cumberland park today went to favorites or well-played second choices. The books averaged up, however, on the steeplechase and the last event, the winners being practically without following. In the last race the horses got away almost in Indian file and Jockey Roach, who had the mount on Tom Rowe, was suspended for the meeting for spoiling the start. Weather clear, track slow. Summaries:

First race, 1 1-16 miles—Jordan, 101, D. Austin, 2 to 1, won; Santa Teresa, 98, Lindsey, 5 to 1, second; Sam Craig, 104, Gullett, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:52¾.

Sycamores Have a Kick.

The Sycamores are objecting to the East End Crescents playing Tesh Saturday. These teams are to meet Saturday at Friendship park for the lightweight championship of Western Pennsylvania. The Sycamores claim Tesh, who played fullback on the East End Lyceum, is not a regular player on the Crescent team. If the Crescents persist in playing Tesh the game will go on, however.

WHY SHE SOUGHT A DIVORCE

Husband Did Not Come up to Her Ideas in Matters of Dress.

SHE PLEADED IN VAIN.

When Divorce Proceedings Stared Him in the Face He Did Things.

A happier husband and wife never lived until the husband began to "run down at the heel," so to speak. Despite his wife's pleadings the husband persisted in buying inferior, ill-fitting clothing that cost more than he could afford. He always looked as if he had been dressed by the second-hand dealer. The woman finally sought divorce.

It was then that the husband waked up. He had told his wife that he could not afford to dress well and keep a family, but when she threatened divorce he changed his mind. Going to the store of the Liberty Clothing Company the man bought a complete outfit consisting of a suit, top coat and overcoat. He found much to his surprise that he could buy a fine suit or overcoat for $7.50 to $15, and he then and there made up his mind that never again would he give his wife cause for tears or anxious worry on account of his clothes.

SOCIETY

SOCIETY smiled its sweetest, yesterday, on the benefit musical tea, for Woman's exchange, held at the home of Mrs. Albert J. Barr, in Bidwell street, from 2 until 6 o'clock. Maids and matrons in their smartest toilettes were there, and as a special attraction there was Francis Rogers, the New York baritone, who has been heard all summer at Newport, Bar Harbor and several other equally exclusive resorts, as well as at the White House. Mr. Rogers was introduced to Pittsburgh music lovers by the talented Ethelbert Nevin, and it was for Mr. Rogers that "The Rosary" was written. This was one of the numbers given yesterday afternoon. Mr. Rogers returned to New York last evening, but before leaving was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Skelding, the latter a sister-in-law of Mr. Nevin. Mr. Rogers' program yesterday included "Songs of Araby," by Clay; "Dena's Daughter," which was written for him by Bruno Huhn and sung in Pittsburgh yesterday for the first time; "The Requiem," by Signey Homer, husband of Madame Louise Homer; "Ditesmoi," by Nevin; "Turn Ye to Me," an old Scotch song; "Loupir," by Bemberg; "Love Me or Not," by Secchi; "The Trumpeter," by Dix; "Song of Rest," by Hadley; "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "Health to King Charles," by Boot. The program was given in four parts, with Miss Helen Spencer of the Tuesday Musical club as accompanist.

The board of managers had charge of the social and business end of the entertainment, in which they were assisted by Miss Eleanor DuPuy, Miss Annis DuPuy, Miss Helen Horne, Miss Marjorie Adams, Miss Lucy Haworth, Miss Elizabeth Love, Miss Sarah MacKnight and Miss Edith Hay. Mrs. Charles Clapp, Miss Stewart and Miss Dohrman presided at the tea table in the dining room, where white chrysanthemums were used in the decorations. The piano was placed in the hall and near by was a booth at which were sold home-made pies and cakes, and orders were taken for plum puddings and other Thanksgiving dinner necessaries. The fancy tables, showing a beautiful array of dainty articles, occupied the drawing room.

There seems to have been a mistaken idea prevailing as to what is the real aim of the Woman's exchange. It is not a money-making scheme, as many suppose, but is really intended to create a market for articles well made by any woman.

Duva-Lyons.

Very quietly the wedding of Miss Clara A. Duva and Louis Willard Lyons took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Duva, in North St. Clair street, East End. The bride, given away by her father, was gowned in white chiffon cloth with trimmings of rose point lace. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms and her bouquet was of white roses showered with lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a pearl and diamond necklace, the gift of the bridegroom. It was a pink and white wedding. The decorations, although simple, were effectively carried out in chrysanthemums. Ferns and pink begonias banked the mantels. The Rev. W. W. Hall, pastor of the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church, performed the ceremony, which was followed by an informal supper.

The wedding was very quiet owing to a recent death in the family of the bridegroom, but seated at the bridal table were those who would have been attendants had the wedding been a large affair, as at first planned. They were Miss William S. Kier, Miss Anita Converse Hoyt, Miss Florence Elizabeth Hill, Master Kenneth Burke, Joseph Lyons, James Ward and Charles Lyons. At the conclusion of their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Lyons will be at home at Collier and Bennett streets, Homewood, where they will receive their friends after January 15.

Mahood-Raitt.

Pink and white were the prevailing colors at the wedding of Miss Martha White Mahood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mahood, and the Rev. George Ernest Raitt, quietly solemnized at the bride's home in Princeton place last evening at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Robert M. Russell, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, whose assistant Mr. Raitt was at one time, performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the bridal couple. Dr. Russell's daughter, Miss Jane Russell, was the only attendant. The bridal gown was simply fashioned of white French muslin and Valenciennes lace, and lilies of the valley formed the bouquet. The young maid of honor wore a girlish frock also of muslin. Smilax at the windows and on the chandeliers, pink roses and white chrysanthemums on the table, with palms in the different rooms, were used in the decorations. A wedding supper followed the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom later beginning their wedding journey. Their future home will be in Philadelphia, where Mr. Raitt now has a pastorate, and where they will receive their friends after December 15. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. G. F. Raitt of New York, mother of the bridegroom, and Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Hanna of Steubenville, Ohio.

Will Wed Today.

Miss Jane C. Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson of Baum street, will be married this afternoon at the home of her parents to Robert Maxwell Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Morris of Stanton avenue. The ceremony will be performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Father Callery of the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, and will be witnessed only by relatives and immediate friends of the principals. From 4:30 until 6 o'clock a reception will be held, during which the bride will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. W. J. Burns; her mother and by Mrs. S. T. Patterson. Following the reception Mr. Morris and his bride will leave on an extended western and southern trip. The bride is the daughter of Vice President Patterson of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad Company, is prominent in social circles and has been closely identified with many charitable organizations.

Voelker-Rankin.

The wedding of Miss Martha Elizabeth Voelker, daughter of Frederich Voelker, and William D. Rankin of Wilkinsburg, took place last evening in the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church of Lawrenceville. The ceremony was performed at 6:30 o'clock, with the Rev. W. W. Hall as the officiating clergyman. The attendants included Miss Mabel Lucy Davis as maid of honor and Miss Mary Jane Graham, Miss Irene Graham, Miss Margaret Brennan and Miss Adeline Lackner as bridesmaids, John M. Crumrine as groomsman and Dr. A. W. McCullough, Thomas S. Eyman, Edward R. Hazelwood and Frank D. McCloy as ushers, and Miss Helen Elizabeth Voelker, a niece of the bride, and Miss Norberta Lackner as flower girls. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Rankin will be at home in Fifty-fourth street.

McLain-Harris.

The Fourth Avenue Baptist church was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening when Miss Mabel Grace McLain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. McLain of Francis street, became the wife of Hiram Harris. The Rev. W. R. McIlveen officiated, assisted by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge. The bridal party included the maid of honor, Miss Ethel McLain, and the bridesmaids, Miss Rose Harris, Miss Effie Rankin, Miss Daisy Everhart and Miss Edna Price; Russell Harris, the best man, and the ushers, Thomas Harris, John Campbell, Paul Elson, Frank Flegal, Dr. Paul J. McLain and William S. McLain. After an extended eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. Harris will be at home in Race street, East End. They have announced days at home after January 1.

To Aid Oklahoma Women.

Members of the Travelers' club met in regular session yesterday afternoon and in answer to a petition from the women from Oklahoma, asking for the elimination of the word "sex" from the Oklahoma bill, the club has instructed its corresponding secretary to write to Senator Beveridge and to Senators Knox and Penrose, asking them to aid the women. The literary program yesterday includes Mrs. Gertrude Coyle's paper on "Spencer and the Faerie Queene," "The Earliest Tragedy," by Miss Margaret Nelson, and "Sir Philip Sidney," by Mrs. George Hubbard. Mrs. Thomas P. Henderson was leader. The club will give a luncheon and musicale at the home of Mrs. Aaron H. West, in South St. Clair street, on December 14, for the benefit of the Soho public baths.

Pittsburgh's Adrian College Club.

Pittsburgh students at Adrain college are effecting the organization of a Pittsburgh club. The club includes 15 Western Pennsylvania students and the following members of the faculty: President and Mrs. B. W. Anthony, Dr. G. B. McElroy, Prof. and Mrs. Harlan P. Freeman, Miss Sarah J. Knott, Miss Anola Wright and Miss Mary J. McCollum. A short time ago the club entertained at the home of President Anthony in honor of the Rev. Dr. C. E. Wilbur of this city, editor of the Sunday school periodicals of the Methodist Protestant church, who was in Adrian to deliver a lecture. After a musical and literary program, refreshments were served, and as favors there were miniature lamps of coal tied in the college colors, black and canary yellow.

Arrangements for the annual meeting of the Civic club, on November 30, are almost completed. A delightful musical program is being prepared. T. D. The marriage of Miss Rebecca Beal Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Oliver, and John Henley Ross of Madison, N. J., will be quietly solemnized tomorrow evening at the home of the bride's parents, in Fermon avenue, Allegheny. Miss Mildred Oliver will be her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Virginia Oliver, also a sister, will act as bridesmaid. The best man will be a brother of the bridegroom, Otto Ross, of Madison, and as ushers there will be Robert W. B. Elliott of New York city and John C. Oliver, a brother of the bride. The Rev. Robert Meech, rector of Christ Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny, will perform the ceremony at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Wheeler's Euchre.

There were 15 tables in play at the euchre given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Charles Van Cise Wheeler of South Atlantic avenue. The guest of honor was Mrs. H. A. Kratzer of Clearfield, Pa., a cousin of the hostess, who will be her guest until Friday. The prizes were won by Miss Anna Wainwright, Mrs. William Wilson and Mrs. John Pollansbee. THE THREE RIVERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 22.—At 6 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 3.7 feet and falling. Weather, clear and pleasant. Today's departures were: Levi J. Workum, Madison, and Lizzie Bay, Madison. No water is in sight at head waters. This will be the first time since its organization that the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh Packet Company has not sent out its first boat of the season on Thanksgiving day. The heavy fog of last night interfered with the traffic on the river. All of the boats were several hours late in getting in. The water is getting so low that even the lightest draft boats will be forced to lay up if rain does not come very soon.

PT. PLEASANT.—River 1 foot 2 inches and falling. Weather cloudy. Up, Minnie.

PARKERSBURG.—River 2 feet and stationary. Weather clear and warm.

GREENSBORO.—River 5 feet and falling. Weather cloudy and cooler. Hits down Wednesday and Columbia up.

WARREN.—River 1. Weather clear and mild.

OIL CITY.—River 6 inches and stationary. Weather clear and cold.

GALLIPOLIS.—River 2 feet 4 inches and stationary. Weather clear and cool.

LOUISVILLE.—River stationary. In canal, 2.4; on falls, .2; below locks, 3.1. Clear and pleasant.

WHEELING.—River 1 foot 9 inches, stationary. Cloudy, warm. No boats.

STEUBENVILLE.—River 1 foot 6 inches and stationary. Weather clear and cold.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis island dam indicated a stage of 2.1 feet and the river was stationary.

DREDGING OUT AN OLD WRECK

Work at South Third Street Recalls the Cyclone of 1895.

Dredge boats at work at South Third street, in the Monongahela river, are bringing to the surface a wreck which recalls the cyclone of Sunday evening, August 18, 1895. They are tearing out the ruins of the old excursion barge Dacotah, which was wrecked in that great storm.

The cyclone of that evening was one of the fiercest which ever swept over Pittsburgh. The storm lasted but a half hour or less, but during that time the wind reached a velocity of 86 miles an hour and a half inch of rain fell. The Dacotah had discharged a great load of excursionists and was being towed by the Lud Keefer when the wind struck her. She heeled over and sunk. The Lud Keefer broke loose and drifted down below the Smithfield street bridge, when she also sunk. A chambermaid on the Keefer was drowned and that was the only life loss in the storm. The excursion barge Arlington and the towboat Tillie were sunk in the Pittsburgh harbor. The Little Bill was struck by lightning and badly damaged. The big warehouses of Henderson & Johnston at South First street were undergoing construction. The steel frame work was up to the sixth story. The wind piled the whole structure out into Carson street as if it had been built of clothes pins.

The wreck of the Dacotah has been lying at the foot of Third street since that night, in the construction of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse Company's great storage house it became necessary to remove it to construct the seawall. Several days ago efforts were made to blow it out with dynamite. This plan met with objections from residents of the South side and was abandoned. Yesterday the dredge boat Westener and another of the Dravo Construction Company were put at the task of tearing out the old timbers. As fast as they are taken out they are piled in barges to be taken to the head of Brunots island, where they are being dumped. Part of the wreck is being burned up. The warehouse company proposes to build a cement seawall along that part of the river shore.

Some idea of what Pittsburgh loses by low water in the Ohio river may be gained from a knowledge that there is over 100 tons of freight in different business houses on the different portion of the city awaiting water enough to carry it down the river. The Ohio river valley absolutely depends upon the river for its commercial life. The Ohio river railroad is the only rail route from Wheeling to Cairo, except a few miles here and there, where some other road parallels it on one side or other of the steep river bluffs. The Ohio river road is the only through line. Its rates are so high as to practically preclude the carrying of certain classes of freight. So, until the rains come or the government makes the Ohio navigable all the year around, Pittsburgh shippers of certain lines of goods must sit idle and wait.

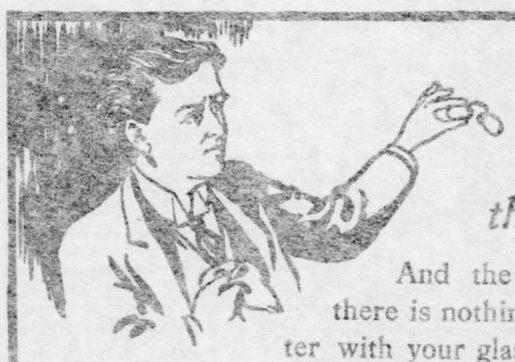
The Rose Hite arrived yesterday morning with many barrels of dressed turkeys for the Pittsburgh market. But it was not like the good old days, when the Monongahela wharf would be crowded with barrels of turkeys with the feathers off and boatloads of coops of live ones. The Hite's load came down from West Virginia and the headwaters of the Monongahela. When they were unloaded the down-river boatmen looked sad and thought of times when navigation was open at Thanksgiving time.

The John F. Klein has a mascot now in the shape of a big wild duck. A week or two ago Capt. James Gilmore of the Klein was in the pilot house when he saw something sailing for the window. He ducked and the bird struck the pilot house and fell stunned to the deck. Capt. Gilmore claims it weighs 25 pounds. It was probably bewildered in the darkness by the pilot house light.

Capt. S. R. Dawson, who is at the Mercy hospital, is reported to be recovering rapidly.

Capt. Al Culp of Elizabeth visited Harbor 25 yesterday and reported everybody up that way to be anxious for a rise. He says Capt. James Hester is there and is taking on weight rapidly in the clear country air.

Col. Dery Poe is reported to have taken to the woods since his rise for November 2 did not materialize.



You cannot wipe off the blur!
And the reason is there is nothing the matter with your glasses. The trouble is with you; you, yourself. Your head is congested, you are dizzy, you cannot see clearly, and you are all out of sorts.
Wake up your sleepy liver! Get rid of a lot of bile. Take one of Ayer's Pills each night, for a few nights. These pills are liver pills, all vegetable, sugar-coated. They act directly on the liver, curing biliousness, constipation, dizziness.

The new Williom No. 5, just out, is the KING OF LIGHTS for residences and stores; can be used on high or low pressure, either ARTIFICIAL OR NATURAL GAS. Its illuminating power is three times greater than that of the ordinary burner; any mantle or any style globe or chimney can be used. It is a light that never fails. It is the only DUST PROOF light in existence. The airholes are enclosed by a perforated shield which excludes all lint and dust from the burner. It is the easiest regulated of all gaslights. The Williom side screw regulator is the simplest and best adjustable gas check ever devised. The flame can be regulated from the highest to the lowest point of combustion, thus saving the consumer 25 or 30 per cent on his lighting bills. HIGHER RATES FOR MONEY CAUSED STOCKS TO REACT

Call Loans Advanced to 4 Per Cent and Stocks Sold Off 1 to 5 Points—Largest Day This Year on the Pittsburgh Board.

By JOHN O. EAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Rates for call loans in New York stock exchange borrowers yesterday ran up to 4 per cent, at which fully $1,000,000 was loaned. The rise brought in free offerings of new money at 3½ per cent, and the market closed at 3 per cent bid 5% asked. Four per cent for call loans in Wall street is the highest rate that has been quoted since the extraordinary upward movement in the stock market began last June. Throughout the month of May, when we exported more than $43,000,000 gold in settlement of the Panama Canal purchase the money market remained easy at 1¼ to 2 per cent. Again in October, when there was an unexpected resumption of gold exports, which occurred simultaneously with an expansion in bank loans to the highest total on record, the money market was not affected, and this despite the fact that all the foreign money markets were relatively higher than New York. Finally the day before the presidential election, when rates invariably advance, the market did not get above 2¼ per cent. Even a week ago, when large exports of gold occurred and at the same time clearing house reports showed an extraordinary expansion in both speculative and commercial business, which necessarily called for additional accommodation in bank, the rate advanced to only 3 per cent and quickly receded to 2½ per cent. It is no wonder that Wall street began to think that the money market was under as complete control as the stock market. Yesterday, however, when the rate rather suddenly advanced to 4 per cent and held above 3 per cent, there was an immediate effect upon the stock market, which sold off sharply. It was suggested that the advance in rates was part of manipulation to raise the New York parity to the German rate in order to check further engagements of of gold, and it was also announced that $900,000 gold had been transferred by telegraph from New York to San Francisco—a most unusual transaction at this season. If the advance had come gradually, it would have been taken as a matter of course, but inasmuch as it came rather suddenly, it received more attention and had greater effect upon the stock market. We have had advancing prices for stocks on a much higher money rate, and there is every probability that early in the new year money will flow freely to the east, but the incident served to put a decided check upon the operations of various bull pools.

The stock market had opened strong, and under the leadership of United States Steel securities there was a moderate advance during the first two hours, but there was a falling off in the volume of dealings. United States Steel preferred crossed 90 and the bonds crossed 91, thereby fulfilling predictions and establishing new high prices for the year. The minor iron and steel stocks also advanced, and the electrics were very strong. General Electric reached 194½, and Westinghouse Electric advanced 3¾ per cent. Amalgamated Copper and Sugar did not sympathize with the advancing tendency and sold off soon after the opening. The general railroad list was heavy, and as a rule did not improve much on opening prices. In the afternoon the volumes of dealings increased and prices steadily declined. General Electric broke to 184½ and closed at the lowest. Westinghouse Electric lost nearly all its early gain. United States Steel common closed at a decline of ⅝ per cent, the preferred closed unchanged, and the sinking fund bonds closed at a net advance of ¾ per cent. Amalgamated Copper closed nearly 2 per cent off from Monday and Sugar 2½ per cent. Colorado Fuel and Iron was the only stock that closed as much as ½ per cent higher for the day. The declines in the railroad list ranged from small fractions to 1¼ per cent on Baltimore & Ohio, 1⅝ on Union Pacific, 2¼ per cent on Ontario & Western, and an average of 1 per cent or more on stocks like Pennsylvania, Canadian Pacific, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Louisville & Nashville and Rock Island.

Grain markets made a strong recovery and closed at large net advances. Primary receipts and shipments of wheat were considerably smaller than for the corresponding day last year and Bradstreet's reported an increase in the world's visible supply of only 3,345,000 bushels, against 6,618,000 bushels for the same day last year.

Transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange were the largest for any day this year, footing up 17,052 shares stock and $9,000 bonds. The tone of the market was firmer until late in the afternoon, when the reaction in Wall street had a sympathetic effect here. The dealings, however, were devoid of any very striking feature. Crucible Steel was strong, the common advancing to 10 and the preferred to 48⅞, and both retained a portion of their gains at the close. United States Steel common and preferred were also active and higher. Pittsburgh Coal preferred furnished the largest dealings for any individual stock and advanced to 79½, the highest of the year. The common rallied to 22 and closed at 21½ bid. Westinghouse Electric was also strong early in the day and advanced to 91½, but reacted to and closed at 89⅝ bid. Window Glass preferred sold at 50, an advance of $10 a share over the last previous sale, and closed at 49 bid. National Fire Proofing common declined to 11, while the preferred was firmer and closed a shade higher. Ohio Fuel Supply rallied to 42½ and Manufacturers Light & Heat closed fractionally higher. Initial transactions were made in Tonopah Extension Mining at $2.05 to $2.08.

TURKEYS REACH PRICE THAT IS PROHIBITIVE

Warm Weather Expected to Bring Them Down—Suckling Pigs Cut a Big Figure.

Turkeys and other things going to make up a Thanksgiving dinner were the principal items of interest in the local markets yesterday. The price was practically prohibitive. When the wholesale price of turkey rises to 25 cents a pound most people would prefer something else for the celebration of the great day.

There was really no excuse for the exorbitant price, and it is more than likely the bottom will be knocked out of the turkey market today. There was an abundant supply of the birds, enough to satisfy all demands. But a shortage had been expected and shippers had shoved the price up until they felt they had to get 25 cents a pound just to make their predictions of a scarcity stand good. The warm weather is against a possibility of the high price being maintained, however, and hundreds of fine birds were being hurried into cold storage yesterday as rapidly as they could be got out of the cars. If the weather holds warm today, as seems highly promising, it is almost certain the price of poultry will get down to figures where common folks can enjoy a turkey dinner.

Suckling pigs are hanging by the tails from the awning over every produce store along Liberty avenue. They only cost 12 and 13 cents a pound, and the man who has eaten suckling pig and turkey knows which he will have when prices get so wide apart as that. In fact, there are few who will give the turkey the preference over the pig.

In the groceries line yesterday everything was quiet. Flour was very shaky and the prospects of another reduction in price seem excellent. It was generally thought yesterday would see another 10-cent drop, but it did not come, although the market was weak and the buyers seem to be hanging back and waiting for a further decline.

Receipts of fruit and other produce yesterday were the lightest they have been this year. Only 10 cars of stock of all kinds arrived. Dealers expect this to continue until after Thanksgiving. There is plenty of stock of all kinds on hand, due to heavy receipts Monday in anticipation of a brisk Thanksgiving trade. The produce men generally were well pleased with the day's business and think the week will show a big increase over last. Receipts were as follows: Apples, 4 cars, making 68; onions, 1, making 25; oranges, 1, making 5; potatoes, 4, making 129.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 16 cars hay, 9 cars oats, 10 cars corn, 6 cars feed, 2 cars straw, 1 car corn and oats, 2 cars rye; Baltimore & Ohio, 11 cars hay, 7 cars oats, 3 cars corn, 1 car feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 6 cars hay, 1 car corn, 1 car rye.

The heavy receipts of corn yesterday showed the local market the effect of recent chances, for it was all readily taken up and no check of prices resulted, as was expected. The corn was all in good condition and buyers seemed to be awaiting its arrival and bought with avidity. The supply of hay has fallen off and the quotations given are easily obtained for good stock. The feed market feels no immediate sign of a breakdown, although the complaint of high figures still keeps up. The supply which comes in is readily taken up at full quotations, and in the face of this no break is looked for soon. Oats continue to hold up well and the arrivals are not more than sufficient to keep the market feeling easy. Altogether the hay and grain market is in a most satisfactory condition, with business constantly improving.

WHEAT MARKET FIRM ON SMALL INCENTIVE

Report of Delayed Harvesting in Argentina Was Principal Factor in Market.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Delay to harvesting in Argentina, owing to wet weather, caused strength in wheat here today. At the close the December option was up 1¾c. May is up 1⅜-1⅝c. Corn shows a gain of ⅝c. Oats are up ¼c and provisions 5 to 20c.

From initial transactions to the end of the session, the wheat market exhibited remarkable strength. At the opening December was up 1 to 1⅛c at $1.08⅛ to $1.09, and May ⅞ to 1¼c at $1.09¼ to $1.09⅝. The advance was largely due to higher prices in foreign grain markets. Liverpool cables being up ⅝d, notwithstanding the severe break here yesterday. The strength abroad was said to be a result of active buying caused by reports from Argentina claiming the heavy rains had delayed harvesting in that country. From the start shorts were eager bidders for wheat, but offerings at first were limited. A little later there was some selling as a result of liberal receipts in the northwest. There was also considerable profit-taking, which finally resulted in a slight reaction. At $1.08⅝ for December, however, shorts again became active buyers and prices started on another upward movement. Throughout the remainder of the day the tendency was toward a higher level. A number of reports were received from the southwest stating that rain is greatly needed and that much damage is being done by drouth. Another bullish consideration was a decrease in primary receipts. Strength of cash wheat at Kansas City was also a factor. The night report on December for the day was reached at $1.09⅝. May touched $1.10. The market closed strong with December at $1.09¼. May closed at $1.09⅝@1.09⅝. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 12,000 bushels. The world's visible supply, according to Bradstreet's, increased 3,509,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,3 2,200 bushels, compared with 1,515,300 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,227 cars against 752 cars last week and 1,088 cars a year ago.

Strength in wheat, small to-day acceptances and higher prices at the sample tables were factors that held the corn market firm. The volume of trading was not large, business being largely of a scalping character. December opened ⅝ to ⅞c higher at 48⅜c to 48¾c, sold between 48⅝@48¾c and 49¼c and closed at 49c. May ranged between 45½ and 46c and closed at 45⅝@46c. Local receipts were 687 cars with four of contract grade.

Influenced by the bulge in wheat, the oats market held firm, but the volume of trading was small. December opened a shade higher at 28⅜c, sold up to 29c and closed at 28⅝@29c, but ranged between 31⅛@31¼c, and 31⅝@31⅞c, and closed at 31⅝c. Local receipts were 101 cars.

Persistent buying of lard and ribs by packers caused a firm tone in provisions. At the start the market was a trifle easier on liberal receipts of hogs. Later, prices rallied and the market closed firm with January pork up 17½@20c, at $12.57½@12.60. Lard was up five cents at $7.60. Ribs were 5@7½c higher at $6.50.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 46 cars; corn, 238 cars; oats, 37 cars; hogs, 43,000 head.

The board of trade will be closed Thursday, November 24.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

One of the most important strikes for years in the Cripple Creek district has been made in the Vindicator mine. The discovery resulted from a cave-in, which it is estimated threw down rock carrying $100,000 in gold values.

The Portland mine is completing a new ore house at a cost of $75,000.

Quartz assaying $7 60 a ton from surface rock has been discovered within less than a mile of Pock, Idaho, and has created some excitement in that vicinity.

The big strike of ore made in the Bingham tunnel by the Hidden Fortune Company is attracting the attention of mining men in the Black Hills. This vein is over 75 feet in width and carries a high average clear across the face. The new strike was made in a drift which was started a short time ago. It is of considerable extent and the values run up into the hundreds. Recently a visitor to the drift broke about 200 beautiful specimens of gold ore from a chunk that was taken from a car as it came from the face of the workings. It is believed that this Bingham vein will be opened up into one of the biggest ore producing bodies in this part of the Hills.

Plans have been drawn for some time for another drainage tunnel, that will be three miles in length and will drain the mines of the Cripple Creek district 800 feet below the level of the present ore. The starting point, however, has not been secured by the owners, who have performed the preliminary work. When the present tunnel cut the water course the water was standing at a point 9,033 feet above sea level. The present tunnel will lower that level 230 feet. The new tunnel, for which the plans have been completed, will lower the water level 800 feet.

A dispatch from Cripple Creek says: A strike, which is so rich that it seems incredible, has just been made in the Peggy fraction, located on the south slope of Gold hill, within the confines of the town of Anaconda. Ore has been uncovered which will run $10 a pound in gold. The ore was found 15 feet west of the shaft at a depth of 350 feet, during the course of development work. The high-grade streak is two inches wide, and the rock is literally covered with sylvanite and calavarite. The rock is heavily stained with fluorine. This small fraction is undoubtedly the richest piece of ground for its size in the Cripple Creek district. A year ago H. M. Gilbert and associates took up a bond of $12,500, which the mine had produced. Since then, or within 11 months, the mine has paid in dividends $75,000, besides paying for expensive machinery, the employment of a good sized force of men, and doing considerable development work. The Peggy property is less than one acre.

Delaney & Moon, on the Yum Yum claim, below the Maggie and the Gold Sovereign, on Bull hill, have opened up ore that runs $240 in gold to the ton.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points. Cables were uninfluential. In fact, there seemed to be nothing to stimulate activity in either direction, but it soon developed that nearby longs were inclined to switch into the latter position, and in accomplishing this the list weakened slightly with prices at one time showing a net loss of 5@10 points. Toward the close importers became active buyers, however, and steadied the market. Prices were finally net unchanged to 5 points lower, with sales of 100,250 bags. The fresh business included: December at 6.60@6.65c; January at 6.70c; February at 6.90c; March at 6.80@6.95c; May at 7.05@7.20c; July at 7.25c; September at 7.40@7.50c. SEALED VERDICT IN THE HOME CASE

Whole Day Was Spent in Listening to Arguments and the Judge's Charge.

COURT SAYS WINE IS FOOD

It was after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon before the Home Development case went to the jury, and the court did not wait to receive a verdict, although the jury arrived at a conclusion 15 minutes later, their finding being sealed until court meets this morning. The entire day was taken up with the arguments of the counsel and the charge of the court. The defense asked the court to charge the jury to acquit. It claimed the manner of conducting the business was legitimate. The commonwealth took the ground that the contract was a fraud and could not be worked out.

Judge Evans, in charging the jury, said that if the jury found there was no combining or federation, the defendants were not guilty. If there was combining, the jury must find it was done to defraud and bring in a verdict of guilty. The business was represented by contracts on which money was paid. There was no evidence that money to be put into the home fund was not used for that purpose. The commonwealth, the court said, claims the contracts in themselves were impossible and a fraud. If it would be impossible to execute these contracts, and the defendants knew it, it was undoubtedly a fraud. A question to decide was, Did they know it and could the contracts not be executed? If the jury found fraud and combination the defendants were guilty if they were acting separately they were not guilty under the indictment.

Act Declared Constitutional.

The opinion of Judge Oriady of the superior court in the case of the commonwealth vs. F. J. and Nick Kebort was received by Prothonotary George Pearson yesterday. The case came up on an appeal from the quarter sessions court of Crawford county. The defendants were convicted of selling adulterated blackberry wine, but judgment was arrested on the ground that the act under which they were tried was unconstitutional. The point raised was that the title was in violation of the constitution, which says, "No bill except general appropriation bills shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title."

It was held that the title does not give notice of the proposed legislation with reference to intoxicating liquors or drinks, and that blackberry wine is such an article.

Judge Oriady says the sufficiency of the title of an act has frequently been tested, and the courts have held that all required is that the title fairly gives notice of the subject, and it is not necessary that it be a complete index of the contents. In this act the purpose of the legislature was most commendable, and the statute should receive a consideration by the courts that will effect the object of its enactment. The defendants' guilt did not depend on the nature or character of the compound, but was determined solely by the poisonous or injurious qualities of the acids added. In another section of the opinion Judge Orlady declares the purpose of the act is to prevent adulerations, and it does not necessarily follow that the adulteration must be in sufficient quantity to injure. The order of the court below for the arrest of judgment is reversed, and the record is remitted to the end that the defendants may be sentenced.

Sale of Incline Confirmed.

The sale of the property of the Penn incline plane to Joshua Rhodes, at public sale on Wednesday last, was confirmed nisi in common pleas court No. 2, the sale to be confirmed absolutely in 10 days if no exceptions are presented. The price for the incline was $75,000 and for 15 lots additional $5,000.

Decrees were handed down in the equity cases of Oliver E. Cornelius vs. J. Henry Jahn and C. F. Minhart and others against Jahn and others. In the first case, which involved the deeding of a piece of property in the First ward, Allegheny, from Cornelius to Linnie Wolford, the court orders the deed set aside and annulled, declaring it fraudulent and void. In the Minhart case it is decreed that the satisfaction entered by Eliza Minhart on the margin of the record of the mortgage from George Asselmyer to C. F. Minhart be stricken off as void, and that the assignment of the mortgage be entered on the records from Eliza Minhart to C. F. Minhart without prejudice to Thomas Alexander. The court ordered Jahn to pay the costs in each case.

In the United States circuit court a verdict for the plaintiff was returned in the case of the American Furnace and Machine Company against Joseph A. Sull, formerly president of the plaintiff company, a director and holder of one-third of the stock. The verdict was returned subject to a point of law, which is left to the court.

Null, as holder of one-third of the stock, is said to have agreed to sell his holdings to the company for one-third of the money in bank to the company's credit. This is said to have been agreed upon, and that there was at the time of the agreement $25,000 in the bank. Null is then alleged to have drawn $15,000 out of the bank from the capital of $25,000. When this was discovered the suit was entered.

Verdict for the Defendant.

A verdict for the defendant was found in the case of Herman Welisch against the Iron City tool works after the court had given the jury binding instructions to return such a verdict. Welisch alleged he ordered 1,000 picks from the defendant, and that they were to have been furnished in a specified time, which, he claimed, was not done.

In the case of Stevenson & Foster against the Home Insurance Company of New York in which a verdict was returned for the defendant, the plaintiff asked for a new trial. A hearing will be held on December 15.

A verdict for the defendant was returned in the case of Harry J. Burch against the American Tin Plate Company. The court, however, allows Burch 20 days to file an application for a new trial. Burch sued for $10,000 damages for the loss of his right arm at the South Connellsville plant of the defendant company.

Rebecca Glover filed a suit for $10,000 damages against the Allegheny Coal Company for the death of her son, Herndon, who was killed in the Harwick mine disaster.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Christian Echard, a hotelkeeper of Braddock. He gives his liabilities as $9,562 80 and his assets as $5,959.

Executions issued: Peter Gray, for use, vs. the Rodman Street Baptist church, $182 50; United Boxboard and Paper Company vs. Jacob P. Nill and C. E. McShahey, $721 92; P. J. Demas, operating as the Pittsburgh Florist Exchange, vs. William T. Drewes, $119 09; Citizens bank vs. James J. Connelly and Anton Peter, $503 82; Berry Bros. vs. Charles and Mary Zumpft, $451 88; the Tiffin Wagon Company vs. Harry Cowan and Catherine Cooper, $136 52.

South Penn Oil Company's Gusher Is Still Holding Up

West of Mannington, Marion county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company's gusher on the C. S. Pitzer farm is still holding up at 354 barrels a day. This is still the best producer in the lower southwest fields. In the fifth sand district, near Fairview in the same county, D. Iseman & Company have a very good fifth-sand producer at their No. 3 on the Clark Tennant farm. This well was drilled in last week and is holding above 200 barrels a day. In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the Southern Oil Company and Greenlee have a good producer at their test on the S. P. McDougal farm. Since drilled into the second Big Injun pay the production has not fallen below 120 barrels a day. In the same district, Carnahan & Smith's No. 2 on the L. P. Cain farm has filled up 2,000 feet from the Big Injun. It is still drilling and may get a second pay. The South Penn's No. 55 on the L. G. Robinson tract is 60 feet in the Big Injun and has a show of oil. It is still drilling and should get a pay with deeper drilling. The same company has drilled its second test on the S. J. Kilcoyne farm 20 feet into the Big Injun and at that depth in the sand has no show of oil or gas.

In the Littleton district, in the same county, the South Penn has drilled its test on the John McGee farm into the stray and the well produced 15 barrels the first 24 hours. In the same district, the Philadelphia Company's No. 3 on the D. L. Anderson farm is producing 18 barrels a day from the Gordon and should improve with deeper drilling.

In the river district, Wood county, the Henderson Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the George Pugh farm through the salt sand and at a depth of 1,200 feet has a very light pumper. In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, the Niagara Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the Rathbone oil tract, and has a very light pumper in the second Cow Run sand at a depth of 256 feet. On Whetstone run, Proctor district, Wetzel county, the Wheeling Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the Jacob Yoho farm, and has a very good gasser in the Gordon. In the Carson pool, in Hancock county, H. B. Luntz & Company have completed No. 4 on the J. R. Scott farm and have a duster in the Berea grit. In the Turkey Foot extension, in the same county, the Phoenix Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the I. M. Young farm, and has a show for a small pumper, not good for more than two barrels a day.

In the Bristoria field in Greene county, the Peoples Natural Gas Company has completed a test on the J. L. and A. Clark farm, and has a fair gasser.

BRILLIANT SONG RECITAL.

Selections Were of a High Class and Well Rehearsed.

A song recital of unusual interest was given last evening at the Conservatory of Music, Dithridge street, by Miss Katherine B. Ellis, soprano, and Howard J. White, bass, assisted by Sidney M. Hamilton, pianist, and Miss Elizabeth C. McNally, accompanist.

Miss Ellis possesses a very high and flexible voice which was heard to great advantage in the arias, "Thou Brilliant Bird," from David's "Pearl of Brazil." Mr. White's big numbers were the Wagner's "Traume" and "Oh, Isis and Osiris," from Mozart's "Magic Flute," though his Hungarian songs excited more comment. Mr. Hamilton has but lately returned from study abroad, and his playing of the Chopin "Preludes," is particularly to be commended.

Jumped to Save His Life.

Edward Deitrich, aged 28, of C. Dietrich & Sons, pork packers of Allegheny, was seriously injured yesterday by jumping from the second story of the company's plant in Spring Garden avenue. A fire in the smoke room cut off Deitrich's escape by way of the stairs, and he jumped through the window. The fire did $500 damage.

FOURTH AVENUE CORNER LEASED

Columbia Savings & Trust Company Will Occupy Old Columbia National Bank Room.

DEALS IN SMALL PROPERTIES

Rumors which have been current for two weeks as to a big deal on for the Hartley block at the east corner of Fourth avenue and Smithfield street were set at rest yesterday by the announcement that the Columbia Savings and Trust Company has secured a long lease on the first floor for banking purposes. The Columbia company was organized last August, the prime mover in the deal being William J. Diehl. It was then reported the company would erect a fine building in the hill district. The necessity of a more central location, however, finally persuaded the promoters to get the quarters in the Hartley block, formerly occupied by the Columbia National bank. Mr. Diehl said yesterday the company would open for business there about December 15. The lease includes the purchase of all the fixtures of the Columbia bank, among which are three burglar proof vaults, safes, desks, counters, etc. The company has a capital of $200,000 and its directors will be announced soon.

It has been known for several days that two financial institutions were after the location, but it was generally supposed the deal when made would be a purchase outright. Rumor had it that an option for $750,000 had been secured on the property. The present deal adds another to the long list of financial concerns in Fourth avenue and assures the new company one of the choicest locations in the city.

Ninth Street Property Bought.

The Hannah Bedillion property on the east side of Ninth street, between Penn avenue and Fayette street, has been sold to Walter P. Fraser. Title was secured from Jacob I. Levy, who has had the lot a comparatively short time. It measures 18x57 feet, and is improved with a brick building. The consideration named in the deed is $16,000, in addition to which the purchaser assumes two mortgages totaling $20,000.

Through the office of Alfred Dickson, Architect James T. Steen has sold to a prominent professional man of Pittsburgh a residence property on the north side of Ellsworth avenue, near Ivy street, Twentieth ward, for $12,000. The lot is 30x104 feet and is improved with a modern 10-room brick house of the reception type.

C. C. Hamilton has sold for John Cooper to R. B. Melvin 2025-2027 Penn avenue for $14,500. The property consists of two brick store rooms in front and two frame houses on the rear of a lot 24x100 feet. The rental is $160 a month.

Frank Drabner has purchased from William W. Mathes 105x200 feet in Craig street, near Center avenue, Thirteenth ward, for $16,000.

The Real Estate & Mortgage Company sold to Albert M. Jolley an improved property 59x68 feet, on the west side of Oakwood street, Twenty-seventh ward, for $10,500.

Another Mt. Lebanon Lot Plan.

The old Potter farm, a short distance beyond the Mt. Lebanon school house, which was bought recently by John B. Hays and Thomas L. Farr, is being made ready for a lot plan. The 37 acres have been plotted into 180 lots, 50x130 feet each, which face in 50 and 60-foot streets. The grades are established and the streets laid out ready for grading and the laying of sidewalks. Nothing more will be done until spring. The farm fronts 800 feet on the Washington pike and will be handled by S. A. Dixon.

Since September 1 over 25 houses have been started in Ben Avon. These range in cost from $5,000 to $9,000. The borough is putting in the last of its new system of sewers, which will add greatly to the value of holdings in many streets.

Architect C. M. Gay is preparing plans for a brewery to be built for the Consumers' Brewing Company at Donora at a cost of $90,000.

The Henry Shenk Company has the contract for a $20,000 brick residence for Mrs. George E. Conlifant of Etna.

The First National Bank of Oakdale has decided to erect a bank building in State street.

Architect S. C. Irwin is receiving subbids on a two-story brick laundry at Bellevue.

Extensive alterations to the store building of Charles Ruben at 1417 Fifth avenue will be made from plans by Architects Dean & Stophlet.

Federal Street Store Rooms Leased.

Through the office of W. L. Scott & Co. Frank McCann has leased to J. A. Whitcomb the first floor and basement of the building at 902 Federal street, Allegheny, for 10 years at $2,500 a year. The lessee will fit up the place for a dairy lunch restaurant. Two other store rooms in Federal street were leased yesterday, showing an increasing inquiry for good business quarters.

Allegheny: The Manchester Savings Bank and Trust Company, through its real estate manager, Adam Hoffman, sold for Charles Royce and James Berry to William Morrison, 1329 Pennsylvania avenue, extending through to Stewart street, for $2,450. A frame house stands on the rear of the lot, and the other end will be improved. The company has lately added its real estate department and will make a specialty of securing homes for workingmen on reasonable terms.

Allegheny: Edward Bogley bought from the Denny estate three frame houses on 40x75 feet in Ark street, near East Diamond street, Allegheny, for $2,000. The property rents for $51 a month, showing an income of 30 per cent gross.

Allegheny: A. D. Wilson sold for Netta Vandervort of Rochester to Peter Eidemiller a frame house on 24x55 feet on the east side of Beaver avenue, near Rebecca street, Fifth ward, Allegheny, for $1,800.

Allegheny: W. L. Scott & Co. sold for A. A. Spivey to Jesse C. Stewart of Sewickley 48x100 feet in Home street, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, for $1,500. The lots are in the Sterling place plan and will be improved at once.

Alhambra alley: Page Brothers & Co. sold for Mrs. M. Cordier to James R. McCabe 78x76 feet in Alhambra alley, in the rear of Wineddiddle avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $2,000.

Minor Real Estate Deals.

Bluff street: The Aronson Realty Company sold for Attorney I. L. Aronson to M. Scholnick 1425 Bluff street, a 14-room stone house on 25x52 feet, for $7,750.

Southern avenue: The Real Estate Trust Company sold for Thomas Dugan of Ellwood City to Barney Easterborg a frame house on 25x100 feet at 132 Southern avenue, for $1,150.

Center avenue: William Carr sold to Henry Kanon 60x100 feet on the north side of Center avenue, near Vine street, Eleventh ward, for $6,000.

Lemington avenue: George Brucker sold to Harry W. Ingersoll 50x100 feet on the north side of Lemington avenue, near Westmoreland street, Twenty-first ward, for $1,400.

A curiosity in deed form was registered yesterday at city hall. It bore the date of September 19, 1808, and conveyed from Hester Yost to Kunigwunda Heil 24x47 feet in Concord alley, Thirteenth ward, for $675. This is one of the few cases where the years have not added materially to the value of Pittsburgh holdings, as Concord alley is still on the city map and the property is worth today little more than it was 36 years ago.

C. G. Mitchell sold for the executors of the Catherine Negley estate to Edward Krebs 60x160 feet in Negley avenue, near Hay street, for $7,500. The purchaser will improve the lot with a colonial residence.

John N. Armstrong has sold for Grace L. Armstrong to Joseph Frocetle for $2,500 cash the property at 2900 Liberty avenue, improved with a double frame dwelling.

"Mother Goose" Next Week.

The opening sale for the forthcoming engagement of Klaw & Erlanger's great spectacle, "Mother Goose," at the Nixon theater will begin tomorrow morning, the engagement being for two weeks, starting next Monday evening. "Mother Goose" is a sister production to "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," which was presented in this city two seasons ago by Klaw & Erlanger. It is said to be by all odds the most elaborate production these managers have ever imported to this country.

Railroad Officials Expect a Big Increase in Tonnage

The best barometer of the condition of the country is the activity of the railroads. That business in every branch in the country is to witness a boom of a healthy character is indicated by preprations being made by the railroads. The building of cars does not mean exactly an increase in the volume of business, but the building of locomotives means increased tonnage. The Baldwin locomotive works, according to an official of the company, is expecting to build scores of engines. Bids for the construction of these are now out. The statement was made that within the next few weeks several hundred men will be employed in the different locomotive works who were suspended a few months ago. The Pennsylvania railroad has placed another order for 40 freight and passenger engines to be used in the Pittsburgh district. The superintendents and motive power officials of the company are at work on the estimates for 1905. The majority of engines made for the Pennsylvania are turned out of its own shops and when orders are placed with outside firms is a conclusive fact that business is above the ordinary.

New Station for Wheeling.

A few days ago Oscar G. Murray, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, issued orders for the construction of about 35 new passenger stations. A dispatch from Wheeling says plans are being made for the erection of a large modern building in that city. The improvements at Wheeling include elevating the tracks through the city. The trend of railroads is to enter all cities on elevated tracks. The expense of constructing such roads is great, but pays finally by the quickening of trains and the prevention of grade crossing accidents.

Well Water Preferred.

Impure water has caused the railroads in this district an enormous expense to keep boilers in repair. A plan which is being carried out extensively is to drill artesian wells. The water is usually hard and contains acids, but they are not sufficiently strong to corrode the boilers. The Union railroad, after watching the tests of other roads, has decided to drill several wells from which all their engines will be supplied.

Railroad Notes.

The Baltimore & Ohio may change the division terminal from Grafton to Fairmont.

F. H. Tristram, assistant passenger agent of the Wabash, is on a business trip in Ohio.

The annual meeting of the Traffic club of Pittsburgh will be held December 14, at which officers will be elected.

The Pennsylvania railroad officials are considering the advisability of lengthening the runs of crews on passenger trains with a view of quickening the time of through freight trains and reducing the operating expenses.

After a thorough interpretation of the new shipping bill adopted by the railroads by the officials who framed the document, the shippers have withdrawn their objections. The bill will be effective January 1.

Your Druggist Sells the Pills.

WHY NOT SEND A TWO-CENT STAMP AND SAVE HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS?

Wouldn't it be a pretty good investment? If you are a sufferer from Catarrh or Deafness, send a 2c stamp to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio, and they will mail you a sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, which has been proven by thousands to be the only cure for all forms of Catarrh and its kindred affliction—deafness. Easily applied—gives instant relief, and you'll thank us for the advice. For sale by druggists. If not, a full sized jar will be sent prepaid on receipt of 50c. But send for the sample first. That'll prove the claims of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm.

"I read an advertisement of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm offering to send a sample for a two cent stamp; I sent for it but my faith in it was weak. But it did me good from the first application and after using the balm during the evening, to my surprise, I found that I had slept with my mouth closed and was breathing through my nose as freely and naturally as I did when a healthy, romping boy. I had not slept in this manner for 15 years.

The balm cured me, months ago, of the malady, which annoyed me for 25 years. I now feel like a new man."
